Corrections.

Page 127.—G. B. Goodwin (fourth line from the top) married Henrietta Minter, not Dupuy. He is the George Bennett Goodwin mentioned on page 100.

Page 127.—Theophilus Goodwin (third line from bottom of Appendix W) was born in 1761, not 1744, and was pensioned in 1818, then fifty-seven years old, not seventy-four.

Additions.

Page 5.—Major James Goodwin's ancestry, as given on page 5, can be traced with reasonable certainty still further. The History of Buckingham County, England, states that William Goodwin, of Bucks and London, born about 1470, had two children, John and Blase. John Goodwin married Katherine ——, and had eighteen children. The eldest was Sir John Goodwin, the father of Sir Francis Goodwyn, who was in Virginia in 1620, dying in England in 1634. Sir Francis' son Arthur had a daughter, Jane, baptized in 1618. It seems safe to assume that Henry Goodwin, of Bucks and London, ancestor of Major James, was one of the eighteen children of John Goodwin, and a grandson of William Goodwin, as that was the only Goodwin family in Bucks and as Henry's son, Robert, was of the same age as Sir Francis; Robert's son, Peter, of the same age as Arthur; and Peter's son, Major James, was about the age of Jane, baptized in 1618. However this may be, it is desirable, in the light of Dr. Tyler's discoveries, to reprint the record of the immediate family of Major James.

1. Major James Goodwin (Peter, Robert, Henry, John, William), born in London, married, first, Rachel ——, born in 1630, and died in Virginia in 1666; second, Blanche Morce, whose will was proved September 22, 1701. Rachel left five sons and two daughters, according to her tombstone, but it is certain that two sons had died before 1692 without leaving issue, for upon dividing up the estate of Major James Goodwin in that year the auditors reported to the court that there were seven children and the widow entitled to shares. As Major James had two sons by his second wife who survived their mother, and as there is no mention of any children of the deceased sons, who would have inherited a child’s share, the conclusion is irresistible that two of the first wife’s sons had died without issue, and that John, Peter, Matthew, Susannah, Elizabeth, Robert and Martin were the seven surviving children. Children by first wife: i. Robert, born ——, living in 1666; 2, ii. John, born ——, married Elizabeth Moore; 3, iii. Peter, born ——, married Rebecca Tiplady; 4, iv. Mathew, born ——, married ——; v. son, born ——, living in 1666; 5, vi. Susannah, born ——, married Duke; 6, vii. Elizabeth, born ——, married —— Blinkhorn. Children by second wife: 7, viii. Robert, born ——, married Anne ——; 8, ix. Martin, born —— married Barbara Rogers.

4. Mathew Goodwin (James), born probably in Virginia about 1658, was living in York county in 1701. The fact that it has been impossible to get complete data of the children of Robert and Martin Goodwin, the half-brothers of this man, makes it unsafe to assign positively any family to Mathew, although it now appears reasonable that he was the ancestor of several of the families which cannot trace direct to Major James. John Goodwin (Appendix Y), who married Mary Elliot April 22, 1705, in Christ Church Parish, Middlesex county, Va., cannot trace through Robert, as I had supposed, but if a grandson of Major James at all (and I begin to doubt it), must have been Mathew’s son. I am very much inclined to believe that this John was the son of Rev. Benjamin Goodwin, who settled in Gloucester county, adjoining Middlesex county, in 1700. In Bristol Parish, Dinwiddie county, Va., a Thomas and Martha Goodwin were baptizing children in 1721 and 1722, and a Mathew and Ann Goodwin baptized a daughter, Susannah D., in 1736, and a son, John, in 1740. Sheldon Goodwin, dying in York county in 1751, may have been a descendant of one of the half-brothers, but if Major James’ first wife was of Porter blood, then John Porter Goodwin, mentioned in a law suit in 1730, can descend only through Mathew; but I cannot reconcile this proposition with the dates if John who married Mary Elliot was a son of Mathew, as this John had no son John Porter and the latter was in fact too old to have been a grandson of Mathew. A Mathew Goodwin was in York Co. in 1732. It appears probable that the Thomas who settled near Petersburg, Va., in Bristol Parish, was son of this older Mathew. (See in this connection Appendix K of this issue.) Omitting, then, the John who married Mary Elliot in 1705 we have these probable children: i. Thomas, born about 1685, married Martha ——; ii. Mathew, born ——, living in York county in 1732; iii. Peter, born ——, see Notes, page 24; iv. John Porter, born ——, living in York county in 1730.

6. Elizabeth Goodwin (James), married —— Blinkhorn, and received a bequest from her stepmother in 1701; no child known to me.

7. Robert Goodwin (James), a son of the second wife, was probably born about 1670, and it appears that Appendix Y will have to be changed by cutting out one generation, and that it was this Robert, and not his son Robert, who was patron of a school in 1711, and that he was not the father of John, who married in 1705. The records show that a Martin Goodwin was one of the orphan children of Robert, but unfortunately do not tell who were the others. It would thus appear that the Robert Goodwin in York county in 1736 (then aged thirty-three), 1743 and 1748 was the son of this Robert, and that he married and had a daughter, who married Samuel Hill, of York county, and perhaps other daughters—Rebecca and Anne. There may have been, and doubtless were, others in addition to the following children: i. Martin, born ——, d. s. p.; ii. Robert, born ——, 1703, married ——.

8. Martin Goodwin (James), born in York county, married Barbara Rogers, daughter of John Rogers, by whose will (page 147, 1897 Supplement) we learn that Elizabeth was Martin's oldest daughter. The son Martin, born about 1713, died in 1749 in Elizabeth City county, leaving four children, James, Martin, Elizabeth and Robert. There were probably more than these children: i. Elizabeth, born 1711; ii. Martin, born about 1713, married Elizabeth ——.

Page 2.—Devereaux Goodwin disappears from the Maryland records, so far as I can learn, about 1705. I find that on May 4, 1715, a Devereux Gooding was rector of Desborough Hundred, Buckingham, England. It seems probable that Devereaux, Sir Francis and Major James were all descendants of the John and Katherine Goodwin, of Buckingham, or Bucks, who had eighteen children.

Page 13.—John Goodwin (Peter, Peter, James) had son Peter, born 1768, who was said probably not to have survived. This is an error, as shown by page 158, 1897 Supplement, he being Peter, Sr., as shown by the note on that page.

Pages 15–16.—Thomas Goodwin (John, James, Peter, James) enlisted in January, 1781, then aged fifteen years, under Capt. Thomas Doswell and Col. Park Goodall, for three months. He reenlisted in May, 1781, as a private under Capt. William Norvill and Col. John Taylor.

APPENDIX A.

The Goodwins of Brookville, Indiana.

Thomas Goodwin, born about 1730–’40, was married twice, but had no children by his second wife. He was a farmer and slave-owner and a Quaker. His son Thomas, Jr., is said to have been born in Pennsylvania, and to have inherited a part of his father's estate about 1815. Probably the facts will be found to be that Thomas Goodwin, Sr., resided in Montgomery county, or at least in Maryland, where the Aiken, Wiles, McKinley, Shaw and Rees families lived, and that after the death of his first wife he re-married and moved into Pennsylvania and there died. Thomas Jr., went along the old National Road to Brownsville, Fayette county, Pa., and thence eventually to Brookville, Ind. Thomas Jr., had brothers and sisters, but their names or descendants are not known. In the search for records which would identify the family of Thomas Goodwin Sr., much of the data of the various Goodwin families in America has been collected, and while the records throw no light on the point in question, they are given to the Goodwins in printed form in the hope that they may hereafter be the foundation for a complete history. Mr. Warren S. Ely, of Doylestown, Pa., calls attention to a possible solution of the Thomas Goodwin Sr., puzzle, as follows:

Richard Goodwin, a planter and slave-owner, died in Anne Arundel county, Md., about January 1, 1796, leaving wife Mary, sons Richard, John and Thomas, giving a negro to the latter in addition to land, and daughters Elizabeth, Ara and Ellinder. Richard also mentions grandchildren and appoints his son-in-law, Charles Robinson, his executor. It can be assumed that Richard, a grandfather, apparently surviving some of his children and mentioning grandchildren among his heirs, might have been born around 1720, and be about seventy-six years old at death; that his son Thomas might have been born about 1745, and was by this will a slave-owner, and might have been the father of Thomas Jr., born April 27, 1767; that Charles Robinson, a son-in-law, was appointed executor because the sons had gone from home and "set up" for themselves; and finally it shows that Thomas Sr. (?), was living in 1796, and might well have survived until 1810-15, when Thomas Jr., inherited from him.

The points of similarity are quite striking, and further investigation should either furnish additional proof or disprove the guess. Child (only one known): i. Thomas, born April 29, 1767, married Catherine Rees.

Thomas Goodwin (Thomas), born April 29, 1767, was married about 1788 to Catherine Rees, born October 7, 1767, a daughter of David and Lydia (——) Rees, who were born in Wales. Catherine knew her husband's step-mother, but not his own mother. They resided, perhaps, in Lancaster, Pa., surely in Brownsville, Pa., and thence going to Ohio and eventually Samuel Goodwin (Thomas, Thomas), born April 12, 1789, at Old Fort, now Brownsville, Fayette county, Pa., was married, first, at Lebanon, Ohio, to Eunice Pearson, born 1796, died 1814. Samuel was married, second, March 19, 1815, at Lebanon, to Mrs. Eleanor (Wiles) Moon, widow of Phineas Moon and daughter of John and Eleanor (McKinley) Wiles Jr. John Wiles Jr., is said to have been the only son of a John Wiles, who was killed in the Revolutionary war and whose wife is thought to have been an Aiken. Eleanor McKinley was daughter of Rodger and Eleanor (Shaw) McKinley of Baltimore, Md., Rodger being a son of James McKinley, born 1708 in Ireland, died 1812 in Lebanon, Ohio. Samuel Goodwin settled in Brookville in 1816, where he died June 26, 1851. His widow died May 18, 1873. Children by second wife: i. Eunice, born July 12, 1817, died Sept. 6, 1817; ii. (Rev.) Thomas Aiken, born Nov. 2, 1818, married Content Lucretia Craft; iii. (Dr.) John Reeves, born July 15, 1820, married Rachel Goudie; iv. Mary, born Aug. 7, 1822, died July 31, 1839, unmarried; v. Eleanor, born May 13, 1824, died Nov. 30, 1843, unmarried; vi. Martha Wiles, born March 4, 1826, married Wilson Morrow; vii. Samuel Augustus, born July 11, 1828, died March 17, 1829; viii. Samuel George, born Feb. 21, 1830, resides Indianapolis, Ind.; ix. (Rev.) William Rees, born July 7, 1832, married, first, Susan Ann Keely, second, Mrs. Mary (McAdams) Smith; x. Robert James, born Jan. 29, 1834, died July 2, 1884, unmarried, Brevet Brigadier-General Civil war.

Rev. William Rees Goodwin, D. D., (Samuel, Thomas, Thomas), born July 7, 1832, in Brookville, was married, first, August 5, 1856, at Brookville, by Rev. S. T. Gillet, to Susan Ann Keely, born April 4, 1838, in Mt. Carmel, Ill., a daughter of Rev. John Wesley and Elizabeth (Fisher) Keely⁵, John⁴, John³, Sebastian², Michael Keely¹, and died at Lincoln, Ill., Sept. 29, 1868.
Her father's mother was Ann Iddings, a descendant of Dr. Thomas Wynne, who came with Penn in 1680, in the Welcome, and was speaker of the First Assembly in 1682–83. Dr. Goodwin was married, second, June 24, 1869, at St. Louis, Mo., by Rev. B. F. Crary, D. D., to Mrs. Mary (McAdams) Smith, who died in Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 26, 1898. By occupation he is a teacher and minister, in politics a Prohibitionist, and in religion a Methodist. He resides (1899) in Los Angeles, Cal. Dr. Goodwin was graduated from the Indiana Asbury University in 1856; was principal of the Goshen, Ky., Academy for one year; was president of the Brookville College; Professor of Belles Lettres in the Illinois Wesleyan University; twenty-five years a member of Illinois Conference; delegate to the General Conference; five years a member of the Rock River Conference and stationed at Park Ridge, one year; Austin, two years and at Chicago three years. He is one of the best known contributors to the periodicals of the Methodist Church. Children by first wife: i. John Samuel, born March 16, 1858, married Mary Elizabeth Forbes; ii. George Keely Holliday, born April 28, 1861, died April 13, 1862; iii. William Ransdall, born Aug. 19, 1863, married Mrs. Mary Eva (Putman) Hazlett; iv. Frank Morrow, born April 14, 1868, died May 6, 1869. Child by second wife: v. Eleanor, born May 25, 1870, married Dr. Charles H. Whitman.

John Samuel Goodwin (William Rees, Samuel, Thomas, Thomas), born March 16, 1858, in Edinburg, Ind., was married October 7, 1880, at Danville, Ill., by Rev. William Rees Goodwin, D. D., to Mary Elizabeth Forbes, born June 9, 1858, in Danville, a daughter of Thomas Richard and Anna Eliza (Robinson) Forbes, Thomas Chester, Benjamin, Elijah, Joseph, John, James Forbes, of Hartford, Conn. By occupation he is a lawyer, and in religion a Methodist. Mr. Goodwin was graduated from the Indiana Asbury University in 1877, the valedictorian of his class. He resided in Beloit, Kansas, from 1878 to 1888; was appointed judge in April, 1879; spent some time abroad in 1885–86; resided in Danville, Ill., until January, 1891, and in Chicago thereafter. He is law partner of General John C. Black, ex-Commissioner of Pensions, and at present United States District Attorney. He is interested very extensively in the breeding of registered Aberdeen-Angus cattle. He is the compiler of the genealogy of the Goodwins of Virginia and of the Goodwins of Kittery, Maine. Child: i. Anna, born Dec. 15, 1886.
APPENDIX B.

THE GOODWINS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY, INDIANA.

Aaron Goodwin was born in 1753. His birth-place is given as Virginia and as Hartford, Conn. His fourth child was Enoch, said, in first line on page 69 of the 1897 Supplement, to be untraced. It now appears that the Goodwins around Lebanon, Ind., supposed to be descendants of John Goodwin of Appendix C, are the descendants of this Enoch, and they also have the Connecticut origin tradition.

Moses Goodwin (William, Enoch, Aaron), born July 28, 1832, near Moorefield, Nicholas county, Ky., was married Sept. 7, 1854, near Lebanon, Ind., to Mary M. Parish, born Sept. 6, 1834, a daughter of George and Eliza (Powell) Parish. Mr. Goodwin is a retired farmer, residing at Kahoka, Mo., removing there in 1857 from Lebanon, Ind. Children: i. Anna Eliza, born Aug. 18, 1855, married Perrin Gregory; ii. Josephine M., born Nov.
5, 1861, resides at Kahoka; iii. George W., born May 6, 1864, married Ella M. Harris.

Page 69.—William Goodwin (Aaron), who resided in Fleming county, had nine children instead of six, as given in the 1897 Supplement. I give the corrected list. Children: i. Enoch, born 1807; ii. James, married, first, — Pendulum, second, Patience Ann Applegate, third, Harriet Shane; iii. William born Aug. 23, 1818, married Matilda Faris; iv. Theophilus (went to California, untraced); v. Edward (went to California, untraced); vi. Rebecca, married Mr. Hale and removed to Kansas; vii. Melissa, married Moses Coonrod and settled in Rush county, Ind.; viii. Eliza, married Mr. Hurst; ix. Sarah Ann, married Mr. Hurst.

APPENDIX C.

The Goodwins of Fayette County, Pennsylvania.

In making a suggestion in regard to this family (which descends from a John Goodwin who evidently came to Fayette county by way of Baltimore, as his grandson William "went back" to Baltimore and was killed there) I stated that a complete record of the family might show in addition to John the names of William, James and Thomas. As John was a grandfather in 1799 he was probably born about 1745-'50. Mr. Warren S. Ely sends me the following transcript from the records of St. George's and St. John's Parish, Baltimore county, Md., which indicates either a very correct guess on my part, or else one of those queer coincidences which happen so frequently in family research.

It remains to be proved that the second son, John, is the John who settled in Fayette county, Pa., but it is historically true that the majority of settlers there were from Maryland, and that this John was from Baltimore county, and of the age of Benjamin's son John. It would seem probable that the first son, William, born 1744, was the William mentioned in Appendix N, as the ancestor of the Goodwins of Carroll county, Md., and both the Goodwins of Fayette county, Pa., and the Goodwins of Carroll county, Md., have the tradition that they are of Irish descent.

APPENDIX D.

The Goodwins of Wheeling, W. Va., and the Goodwines of Warren County, Indiana.

John Goodwin, born before 1740, married Miss Heddie, and removed from near Wheeling, W. Va., to Bardstown, Ky., where they died. Of their seven sons, William, Abner, John, Thomas, Seth, Heddie and James, born 1780, only two are traced with any certainty. These are Abner, who settled in Putnam county, Ind.,
The Goodwin Families in America. 13

and James, who settled in Warren county, Ind. The Goodwins who reside in Bardstown and vicinity were supposed to be descendants of one of the other sons, but it now appears that they descend from Isaac Goodwin, born in Virginia, who, with his brother Samuel, was a member of Capt. Harrod’s company in Jefferson and Shelby counties, Ky., in 1780. These two men were a generation younger than John Goodwin, but the fact that they settled in the same locality indicates a probable relationship. The descendants of Isaac are given later in this Supplement. William, John, Thomas and Heddie, of the sons of John Goodwin, are wholly untraced. William was said (page 76, 1897 Supplement) to have settled near Lebanon, Ind., but the Goodwins there are descendants of Aaron through his son Enoch (Appendix B). I think that William was the father of a Francis Goodwin, who lived and died in Taylor county, W. Va. William’s brother Abner had a son Francis, and the names of the children, dates and place of living all point to John Goodwin as the grandfather of this Francis of Taylor county, W. Va., and to William as the father.

Francis Goodwin (William, John) was born about 1785 and was a farmer residing in Lost Run, Taylor county, W. Va. He was twice married, but the names of his wives have not been obtained. Children by first wife: i. Franklin; ii. John, married Catherine Curry; iii. Seth; iv. William; v. Nathan. Children by second wife: vi. Harrison; vii. Lida, married O. Mason; viii. Jane, married — Findley.

John Goodwin (Francis), born in Pruntytown, Taylor county, W. Va., married at Pruntytown Catherine Curry, born 1809 in Eastern Virginia, a daughter of — and Nellie (Welsh) Curry. By occupation he was a farmer and cattle merchant, in politics a Democrat and in religion a Baptist. They resided on the head of Lost Run in Taylor county, where he died about 1858. His wife died in 1871. Children: i. Marine, married Sarah Knight; ii. Henson, married Nancy Knight; iii. Lida Ellen, married James Green; iv. James Creighton, married Mary A. Bartlett; v. Calvin, died aged nineteen; vi. Ann Almira, married Noah Warder; vii. Nancy Jane, married Col. — Stanaker; viii. Permelia Penelope, born Jan. 21, 1855, married John Downs; ix. John, died aged nine months; x. Elizabeth Catherine, born July 6, 1847, married Oliver P. Bower.

Mary A. Goodwin (James Creighton, John, Francis), born 1858 in Flemington, W. Va., married 1875 at Parkersburg Frank B. Knowlton, born 1854 in Millard, Ind., a son of Francis and Fannie (Young) Knowlton. By occupation he was a loan-broker, in politics a Republican. They resided in Chicago. Knowlton child: i. ——, died.

William merchant i. a Pugh, banker 1855, iv. a Martha one vii. died Tunis, Lafayette, xi. Cynthia x. received born and James M. Cranes. sere; v. Clara T., born June 25, 1875, died aged nineteen years; vi. Curtis F., born Aug. 25, 1878; vii. Omie Gay, born March 30, 1881; viii. Clarence R., born May 26, 1884; ix. Olive Ethel, born Nov. 19, 1888, died aged sixteen days.

APPENDIX F.

THE GOODWINS OF HARRISON COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA.

It was stated in the 1897 Supplement that John Goodwin, born in 1762 in Montgomery county, Md., enlisted at the age of sixteen in Harrison county, W. Va., and had a younger brother Edward, and that this indicated that the parents of John Goodwin had come with their family from Montgomery county, Md., to Harrison county, W. Va. His brother Edward Goodwin had three children, James, Gabriel and Margaret. The name Gabriel did not appear elsewhere in the Goodwin family, but Mr. Ely sends me the following from Queen Anne's Parish, Prince George county, which adjoins Montgomery county, Md.:

Edward Goodwin was married June 30, 1735, by Rev. Jonathan Henderson to Sarah Beach. They resided in Prince George county until after the birth of their children. They had children: i. Gabriel and ii. Margaret, born Nov. 8, 1737; iii. Mary, born — 19th, —. It may be that Gabriel, twenty-five years old in 1762, was the father of John, born that year, and of Edward, who named two of his children Gabriel and Margaret, the same as his grandparent Edward had done. Mr. Eben Putnam, the noted genealogist of Salem, Mass., writes me asking if I have any record of a Goodwin whose daughter married prior to the Revolution a man named Davis, who was killed in Loudoun county, Va., during the Revolutionary war, and whose widow married a Harris. By the Davis marriage a son William Goodwin Davis was born who settled in Clarkesburg, Harrison county, W. Va.

The first Edward had two daughters, Margaret and Mary, either old enough to have married and had a son William Goodwin Davis before the Revolutionary war, and if Gabriel Goodwin was the one settling in Harrison county, it is reasonable to suppose that his sister and nephew might turn to the same place. Perhaps some reader of this can answer Mr. Putnam's question for me.

After the foregoing was written Mr. Eppa D. Goodwin, of Bridgeport, W. Va., writes that his aunt, whose name is given on page 81 of the 1897 Supplement as Margaret, fourth child of John Goodwin and wife of Humphrey Paris, but whose correct name was Mary Magdalene, has a daughter living aged eighty-five years, Mrs. Mary (Faris) Lang, and from her he learns that James Simpson settled at the mouth of Elk Creek, where Clarksburg now stands, about 1764, and that he was the first white man to locate in that part of Virginia; that John Goodwin did not enlist from Harrison county in 1778, but first came to Harrison county about 1794; that the Webbs had located on Simpson's Creek above Bridgeport in 1790, and John Goodwin married Elizabeth Webb. John Goodwin had a younger brother, Edward, who also located in Harrison county, and no other brothers or sisters are known. The parents of these two sons were Edward and Tabitha ( ) Goodwin, who had removed from Montgomery county, Md., to below Winchester, Frederick county, Va. (In this connection note that John Goodwin, son of Thomas, Appendix G, born in 1773, was living in Frederick county, Va., and that a John Goodwin mentioned in Appendix W, page 127, born about 1735, was living in Frederick county, Va.) After the marriage of John Goodwin and Elizabeth Webb, Edward Goodwin, who was born in Maryland in 1734, and Tabitha his wife, walked from Winchester, Va., to Clarksburg and were given a home by their son John. This was about 1798. Mrs. Mary (Faris) Lang further says on her sixth birthday, in 1820, she was taken to see her great-grandfather "Neddie" and her great-grandmother Tabitha Goodwin, then living with her grandfather John Goodwin, who was born Sept. 28, 1762, and died Nov. 20, 1842. Mrs. Lang knows nothing of William Goodwin Davis.

This information of course precludes the possibility of Gabriel being the father of John and Edward, but, if the families are related at all, would suggest that it will have to appear that the first Edward was twice married, and had the Edward of 1734 by his first wife, and then, marrying June 30, 1735, had Gabriel and Margaret in 1737. Further investigation along these lines should furnish a clear record.

APPENDIX H.

THE GOODWINS OF BOTETOURT AND TAZEWELL COUNTIES, VA.

The supposition that this family descends through Robert, eldest son of Major James Goodwin, will have to be abandoned, as Dr. Tyler's notes show conclusively that this Robert died unmarried, and that the second Robert was too young to have been the father of John, who married Mary Elliot in 1705. It is possible that Mathew, instead of Robert, was the father of this John.
The lack of data prohibits even a guess at the relationship of this branch to Major James Goodwin.

APPENDIX I.

APPENDIX K.

THE GOODWYNs OF DINWIDDIE COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

The approach to the consideration of this family is well-nigh hopeless. Dinwiddie county seems to have been the gate through which nearly all of the Goodwins passed into the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and other Southern States. The only resource left is to follow the advice of Horace to plunge in medias res. The one firm point we have is that Colonel Peterson Goodwyn was a son of Joseph and grandson of Thomas Goodwyn, all of Dinwiddie county, and died in 1818. He was aged about seventy-three, and was therefore born about 1745. The guessing commences immediately, and we are compelled to assume that his father Joseph was born about 1720, and Thomas, his grandfather, before 1700. It is claimed that this Thomas was a grandson of Major James Goodwin, and that his descendants used the Bucks county Goodwin coat-of-arms, but always spelled the name “wyn.” I think this Thomas introduced this spelling, as his name appears at first as Goodwin. It seems scarcely possible for this Thomas to have been a son of either John or Peter Goodwin, the two elder sons of Major James, for their descendants seem to be fully given in wills and other authentic records. Thomas can scarcely be a son of either Robert or Martin, children of the second wife of Major James, for, while their families are not at all complete, what records we have show that their children were born after 1700, while Thomas must have been born not far from 1690. The conclusion seems irresistible that Mathew Goodwin must be charged with the parentage of Thomas, if Thomas really was a grandson of Major James Goodwin. Mr. Ely and Mrs. Lillie (Goodwyn) Grigg have sent me the next authentic data, showing that Thomas and Martha Goodwin were residing in Bristol Parish, Petersburg, Va., and that they there baptized Tabitha, who was born May 25, 1721, and David, born Aug. 27, 1722. Joseph was evidently an older child than Tabitha and they appear to have had a son still older than Joseph, for Mathew and Ann Goodwin baptized their daughter, Susannah D., born Dec. 17, 1736, and their son John, born April 20, 1740. The recurrence of the name Mathew in this connection tends to confirm the theory of a descent through Mathew, son of Major James. In the note to page 105 of the 1897 Supplement, it was stated that it was strongly denied that Joseph, son of Thomas, was the father of John and Burwell Goodwin, but that it was Joseph’s brother who was the father, and here seems to be the proof of the correctness of the denial, for it was Mathew who was the father of John, and Mathew is thus identified as the brother of Joseph and son of Thomas; and the vestry accounts show that in 1775 Boswell (Burwell?) Goodwyn was paid for keeping one Robert Elder, and that in 1782 Judith Goodwin was paid for keeping Elizabeth Carpenter. I cannot tell who Judith* was, but it seems certain that Mathew, and not Joseph, was the father of John and Boswell or Burwell (if they prove to be the same) Goodwyn, and on pages 105 and 106 the descendants of John Goodwyn should be shown to trace through John, Mathew, Thomas, instead of John, Joseph, Thomas, and Mathew should be added to the list of children of Thomas. On page 110 the last line should show Edward Albert Goodwyn’s marriage, Feb. 6, 1895, to Minnie L. Sheperson, which record was inadvertently omitted. They have two daughters, Minnie Lewis, born in 1895 and Parker Mason, born in 1897. Peterson Agee Goodwyn, first line on page 111, has a son Allen Agee, born in 1898. I am still unable to secure any additional data concerning Harwood and John who had early land grants in Dinwiddie county. I am inclined to doubt the close relationship of Robert Goodwyn of Dinwiddie with Thomas Goodwyn. Robert’s branch has the tradition of a descent from Sir Francis Goodwyn and the same tradition appears in the descendants of a Francis Goodwyn, who was born in Dinwiddie county, son of William and nephew of a Robert Goodwyn, all of whom settled in South Carolina and probably their father and other brothers accompanied them. The following families nearly or quite all trace into Dinwiddie county.

I.

This family is traced in the 1897 Supplement, Appendix K, but attention must again be called to the fact that the Petersons were an Isle of Wight family, and that the Burwells (the name appearing repeatedly in this Goodwyn family) were also from the Isle of Wight, and that the Godwins settled in the same county. The Burwells were a Gloucester county family as well, and the records of this family should disclose an intermarriage with the Goodwins.

II.

Robert Goodwyn, possibly a son of Thomas, born about 1724, probably married an Armistead and resided in Dinwiddie county. Children: i. Capt. Stephen; ii. Capt. Armistead, and perhaps

*Judith was daughter of a James Goodwin, of Dinwiddie county, said to be not related to the Goodwyns. See records of the family of James Goodwin.
iii. Robert. This family is traced in the 1897 Supplement, Appendix K.

III.
Benjamin Goodwin, born about 1725 in Virginia, removed to South Carolina. Children: i. Lemuel, born 1752; ii. Samuel. (Appendix Q, 1897 Supplement.)

IV.
— Goodwin was born about 1736 in Virginia, and removed to North Carolina. He was a brother to Samuel Goodwin. Child: i. Theophilus, born 1761. His descendants are given in Appendix W, page 132, et seq. 1897 Supplement.

V.
Samuel Goodwin was born about 1740 in Virginia, and removed to North Carolina. Children: i. Young, born ——; ii. Mary Anne, born May 7, 1780; iii. David. Samuel’s descendants are given on page 136 of the 1897 Supplement.

VI.
William Goodwyn was born about 1730, and resided in Dinwiddie county, where he married Mary Hart, and removed between 1760-’70 to South Carolina. He was a brother to Capt. Robert, and it appears that still another brother and perhaps their father went to South Carolina. His descendants are given later in this Supplement.

VII.
— Goodwyn was a brother to William, and had a son John, who married William’s daughter Keziah. He had probably other children, as I find in South Carolina David, Lewis, Robert S. and Brittain Goodwin, none of whom I can identify unless some or all were sons of this man.

VIII.
Capt. Robert Goodwyn, born about 1735 in Dinwiddie county, a brother to William, was married, after going to South Carolina, to Sarah Taylor. His descendants are given later in this Supplement.

Maryland Goodwins.

For additional data of the Goodwin families in Maryland, see the records printed hereafter in this publication, contributed by Mr. Warren S. Ely, of Doylestown, Pa. The William Goodwin of Carroll county, Md. (Appendix N), seems to be the William Goodwin born in Baltimore county in 1744, eldest son of Benjamin and Hannah (Urghuart) Goodwin.

APPENDIX X.

Ephraim Goodwin was born in 1823. I have not been able to get the name of his first wife or of his father, but I am told that he was a relative of the Goodwins of Preble county, O. His descendants reside in Danville, Ill.

APPENDIX Y.

Probable Descendants of Robert Goodwin.

The researches of Dr. Tyler, showing that Robert, eldest son of Major James, died without issue, and that the Robert who married Anne —— was a son of Major James by his second marriage, compel us to expunge this Appendix entirely. The John Goodwin who married Mary Elliot could not have been this Robert's son, but was perhaps a son of Mathew; and Robert, who married Anne, was himself the patron of a school in 1711, and was the father of the Robert, born in 1703, instead of being the grandfather of that Robert, as supposed in this Appendix.

NOTES.

All the data contributed by Dr. Tyler in the 1897 Supplement can be applied to the various members of the family, except his notes at bottom of Page 153.

"John Goodwin, orphan of Peter
"Goodwin, in account with John
"Goodwin his Guardian, mentions
"suit vs. my brother, James Goodwin."

1748.

I can find no Peter Goodwin having children, John and James, except Peter, son of Major James, entirely too old to answer the requirements here. If John was settling with his guardian in 1748, then John's birth must have been around 1727, and his father Peter was born evidently around 1705, and was a grandson of Major James. I cannot find any Peter of that age, and have shown Peter as a probable son of Mathew on page 4.
THE GOODWIN FAMILIES IN AMERICA.

It is due to the compiler to permit him to state that the following records are not offered as a finished work or even as being the sum total of information readily obtainable. His researches in genealogy are for a specific purpose—to identify and to trace the lineage of his own ancestor, Thomas Goodwin, of Appendix A. To accomplish this purpose he has searched both the records and the memories of men. He finds the old adage to be very true, that there are many men of many minds, and some apparently care nothing either for their ancestors or their descendants. Others cannot disassociate the search for an ancestor from the idea of a search for a fortune. But many have complied cheerfully with the requests for their family histories, although in many cases they have not taken the trouble to go into that minuteness of detail so dear to the heart and eye of a genealogist. None of the records so kindly sent has contained the long-sought-for information, but to repay in a measure the courtesy shown him the compiler has written many letters, gathered together and straightened out the tangled threads of ancestry as well as possible with the limited time at his disposal and gives back the records to the family in this permanent form in the ulterior hope that the various branches will be led to collect each its own complete records, and have them ready against the coming of the historian who will build on these notes a complete and worthy history of the family. In the meantime the compiler will continue to receive and arrange all records sent him, and only asks that each reader will bear in mind his endeavors to trace his own family and will, if opportunity occur, "lend a hand."

One word further may be permitted. Many letters are received, of which the following is a fair sample:

"I enclose my own family data. I have seven brothers and three sisters. The addresses are as follows. You can write to each of them. I haven't time to do so. Sincerely," ———.

Doubtless this correspondent thought that he was discharging his whole duty, but the compiler thinks otherwise. These records are not gathered as a business matter or with the slightest hope of personal gain. They are the work of moments taken from business hours and from recreation, and the compiler is practicing law not for the purpose of writing to relatives and friends, but to earn a living. It is his fixed belief that it is the duty and privilege of any one receiving notice of this work to send not only his own immediate family, but to pass along the information through all the branches of his family, and to feel amply repaid by the fact that some one, not related, is willing to put into shape the material received, and that another is willing to discharge the printer's bills. The compiler simply cannot act as the historian and sole correspondent of fifty branches of the family, but desires that each family shall send him its records without waiting for repeated requests. The opportunity is a favor to the family and not to the compiler. Many so appreciate it, as is evidenced by the data following, but there are others who have not yet fully grasped the situation. Send, therefore, at once and without further notice, not only your own, but as much of your family's history as you can obtain.

DINWIDDIE CO., VA., RICHLAND AND ORANGEBURG DISTRICTS, S. C., GOODWYNS.

— Goodwyn was born around 1700–15 in Virginia, and probably married an Epps, as that name appears in all branches of this family, and this appearance is explained as "coming in through an early marriage." I cannot even make a reasonable guess as to the identity of this man. He was a planter, evidently living for a while in Dinwiddie county, Va., where his children were born and one or more of them married. He then moved to Richland District, South Carolina, with his family. I am inclined to put him either as a son of Thomas (Mathew, James) or else as a brother of Thomas or son of a brother. He may have had still other children than those here assigned to him, as there are a number of unidentified branches of the family, which trace to the neighborhood of his place of residence in South Carolina. The Hopkins' and Thomas' names, which appear so often, are known to have come into the Goodwyn family by reason of inter-marriages with the Hopkins family, one of this family having early married a Miss Thomas of the same family as the Thomases of Louisiana. The Howell name does not come by relationship, but on account of friendly intercourse and affection. One peculiar circumstance must be noted. On page 105 of the 1897 Supplement it is stated that one branch of the Dinwiddie county Goodwyns, descendants from Robert, has a tradition that their early ancestor was Sir Francis Arthur Goodwin. I find this same tradition among the descendants of Francis, son of William, the eldest son of this family. Children: i. William, born ——, married Mary Hart; ii. son, born ——, married ——; iii. Robert, born ——, married Sarah Taylor.

William Goodwyn, born circa 1730–35 in Virginia, was married to Mary Hart, born in Virginia. By occupation he was a planter. They resided in Dinwiddie county, Va., removing about 1770 to Richland District, South Carolina (probably removed before 1764, as his daughter Keziah is said to have been born in South Carolina). Children: i. Francis, born circa 1760, married Mary Hopkins; ii. William, married Sarah Thomas Hopkins; iii. Uriah (Capt.), unmarried, killed 1780 Eutaw Springs; iv. Amy, married John Hopkins; v. Keziah, born 1764, married, first, John Goodwyn, second, James Hopkins; vi. Angelina; vii. Sylvia.

Francis Goodwyn (William), born in Virginia, was married Nov. 6, 1783, to Mary Hopkins. By occupation he was a planter. They resided in South Carolina. The following clipping from an old Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution of a letter written years ago by a great-grandson of Francis will prove of interest: “Edwin E. Goodwyn, Preston, Ark.: How I love to read The Constitution and all the good letters from Bill Arp and Aunt Susie and all those who make up her department. Aunt Susie, your letters from Florida were especially interesting to me, for I was there once and saw many of the things you described. Nothing else in the enchanting ‘land of flowers’ or historic and quaint old city of St. Augustine, though, can so excite my deepest feelings as the sight or name of Fort Marion. Within that gloomy prison nearly one hundred years ago my great-grandfather was confined during two long dreary years. He was cast into that awful place by the Spaniards for having carried slaves into Florida and not released until a large ransom was paid. I suppose he was not lodged in one of the dungeons you mentioned, but it is enough, and awful enough, to know that however solitary and dark his cell may have been, it completely and cruelly robbed him of eyesight and so impaired his constitution and health that he died soon after being liberated. No wonder one should so shudder within those dungeons and so rejoice on emerging therefrom as you did, Aunt Susie. I should like to tell the cousins of my trip up the St. Johns and across the Gulf of Mexico, but I dare not. Note—I think you may 'dare' to write of your trip.” Children:

Francis Epps Goodwyn (Francis, William), born March 3, 1787, in South Carolina, was married to Mary Fitzpatrick Lloyd. By occupation he was a farmer. They resided in the Richland District, South Carolina, where he died about 1837. His wife died in 1848 in Leesville P. O., Lexington District, South Carolina. Mrs. Mary F. Goodwyn gave to the wife of her son James Epps a gold button, said to have belonged to Uriah Goodwin, a great-uncle of James Epps Goodwyn. Children: i. Mary Lloyd, born Dec. 30, 1812, married, first John W. Lee, her cousin, second, Major A. Jones; ii. James Epps, born 1817, married Rhydonia Jaqueline Hill; iii. Elenora, died unmarried; iv. Sarah Thomas, died unmarried; v. Francis Epps, born Dec. 12, 1822, married Eliza Ann Hart Lykes Evans; vi. child, died young; vii. Emma, died young.

Mary Lloyd Goodwyn (Francis Epps, Francis, William), born Dec. 30, 1812, in Richland District, South Carolina, was married Oct., 1832, at Richland District, South Carolina, to John W. Lee, born March 16, 1813, in Leesville, Lexington District, South Carolina, son of John William and Eleanor (Lloyd) Lee. By occupation he was a farmer, in politics a Democrat. They resided in Leesville, S. C. Mary Lloyd Goodwyn was a cousin to her first husband. After his death she married Major A. Jones in 1870, and resided at Trenton, Edgefield county, S. C., until her death. Lee children: i. Joseph Epps, born Jan. 24, 1834, married Mary Elizabeth Jones; ii. John William, born Feb. 1, 1837; iii. Mary Ellen, born Aug. 31, 1840.

James Epps Goodwyn (Francis Epps, Francis, William), born 1817 in Richland District, South Carolina, was married 1844 at Edgefield, S. C., to Rhydonia Jaqueline Hill, born Sept. 2, 1829, in Wilcox county, Ala., daughter of Jonathan More and Lucinda (Bond) Hill. By occupation he was a farmer, in politics a Whig. James Epps Goodwin died 1862 in Arkansas. His widow resides (1898) in Houston, Texas. She has collected and contributed a very large part of the family records, and her assistance has been invaluable. Children: i. Francis Epps, born 1846, married Fanny Jackson; ii. Rhydon, born July, 1848, died 1862; iii. Greannetta, born May 19, 1852, married William J. Perkins; iv. Lawrence, born 1856, died 1867 in Houston, Tex.; v. Henrietta A., born 1859, married Edward D. Duffield.

Francis Epps Goodwyn (James Epps, Francis Epps, Francis, William), born 1846, was married to Fanny Jackson. They resided (1898) in Ramerana, Live Oak county, Tex. Children: i. Rhydonia Jaqueline; ii. Thomas Jackson; iii. Maud; iv. James; v. Francis Epps; vi., vii. two others.

Sarah Thomas Goodwyn (Francis, William), born about 1789 in Columbia, S. C., married, first, Col. Brutus Howard, of Baltimore; she was married, secondly, in 1872 at Clairborne, Ala., to Col. Stephen Cook Richardson, born in 1793 in Charlotte county, Va. By occupation he was a farmer. The widow of Francis Epps Richardson, Mrs. Anne M. Richardson, of Walker Springs, Ala., says that Sarah Thomas Goodwyn was a cousin to Rev. Nauphlet

Capt. Uriah Goodwyn (William) served in the Second South Carolina Regiment Sept. 1, 1777; wounded at Stono Ferry June 20, 1779; prisoner at Charleston May 12, 1780; killed at Eutaw Springs Sept. 18, 1780. He was unmarried.

David Hopkins (Emma Goodwyn, Amy, William), born Nov. 11, 1838, in Richland District, S. C., was married July 21, 1859, at Col. Rembert's, in Sumter county, S. C., by Rev. Wm. Mood, to Addie M. Rembert, born Jan. 24, 1839, in Sumter

—— Goodwyn, born probably in Virginia, and was married to ———. By occupation he was a planter. He resided in Richland District, S. C., and it may be learned that he was the father of David, Lewis, Robert S. and Britain Goodwin, or at least of some one or more of them. Only child known to me: i. John, married Keziah Goodwyn.

John Goodwyn (——), born in Virginia, married in Richland county, S. C., Keziah Goodwyn, his cousin, born in 1764 in Richland District, S. C., daughter of William and Mary (Hart) Goodwyn. By occupation he was a planter. They resided in Richland county, where John Goodwyn died and his widow married, second, General James Hopkins. It is suggested that John Goodwyn was the Lieutenant John Goodwin who served in the First S. C. Reg. July 12, 1778, and was taken prisoner at Charleston May 12, 1780. Mr. Goodwyn was a cousin of Capt. Uriah Goodwyn, who was a prisoner at the same time, and who was killed the same year at Eutaw Springs, and it is quite probable that he was with Capt. Uriah, as he is known to have been a soldier in that war, and as Capt. Uriah and Lieut. John Goodwin were, I believe, in the same command. Children: i. Mary Howell Hart, married Harry Adams; ii. Sarah Cooke, married Ainsley Hall; iii. Jesse Howell, born 1794, married Sarah Thomas Hopkins.

Mary Howell Hart Goodwyn (John, ——), born in Richland county, S. C., married Harry Adams. They resided in Richland county. The descendants of this marriage have intermarried with the Brooks, Lecompte, Butler, Preston, Hampton and other prominent families of South Carolina. Adams child: i. James H., who became governor of South Carolina.

Sarah Cooke Goodwyn (John, ——), born in Richland county, S. C., married Ainsley Hall, born in England. They resided in Columbia, S. C., where they built and occupied the largest and finest residence in Columbia. They kept their “coach and four” and lived in princely style. Mrs. Hall was an exceedingly beautiful woman and “looked like a queen in her royal robes.” After Mr. Hall’s death his widow lived a retired and quiet life. Their residence is now used as a Presbyterian school called The Preston Mansion. No children.

Jesse Howell Goodwyn (John, ——), born in 1794 in Richland county, S. C., was married in 1814 in Richland county to Sarah Thomas Hopkins, born 1796 in Richland county, daughter of William and Mary (Hopkins?) Hopkins. By occupation he was a planter. They resided in Richland, S. C., removing in 1846 to De Soto Parish, La., where Mrs. Goodwyn died in 1854, and Mr. Goodwyn in 1862. He was a man of retiring disposition, but a finely educated man, a graduate of South Carolina College, and had by inheritance and accumulation a very large estate, which passed to his daughters, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Wharton and Mrs. Tomkies, the last two now (1899) living in Shreveport, La. Children: i. Mary Howell Hart, born 1816, married John Alfred Ross; ii. Sarah Thomas Cooke, born 1818, died unmarried; iii. Martha Howell, born 1820, died unmarried; iv. William, died in Mary Howell Goodwyn (Jesse Howell, John, —), born 1816 in Richland county, S. C., was married 1834 in Richland county, to John Alfred Ross, born June, 1806, in Fairfield County, S. C. By occupation he was a large planter, in politics a Democrat and in religion a Baptist. They resided in Richland county, S. C., removing in 1846 to De Soto Parish, La., where he died in June, 1862. Ross children: i. Jesse Goodwyn, born 1839, killed in war in 1863, unmarried; ii. William Abner, born 1841, died in infancy; iii. Sarah Hopkins, born 1843, married T. Fletcher Bell; iv. Osmond Alfred, born 1845, died in infancy; v. Mary Virginia, born Aug. 4, 1847, married, first, John Christopher Winsmith, second, Giles Jared Patterson; vi. John C., born 1850, married Lessie ——; vii. Caroline Hopkins, born March 13, 1852, married Dr. William F. Smith; viii. James H., born 1854, married Clara Yates.

Mary Virginia Ross (Mary Howell, Jesse Howell, John, —), born Aug. 4, 1847, in Perry county, Ala., was married, first, Nov. 21, ——, at Winsnsboro, S. C., by Rev. Wm. Dubose, to John Christopher Winsmith, born Oct. 22, 1835, in Spartanburg county, S. C., son of John and Catherine Elizabeth (Faber) Winsmith. By occupation he was a lawyer, in politics a Republican and in religion an Episcopalian. They resided in Spartanburg, where Mr. Winsmith died. Mary (Ross) Winsmith was married, second, in Richland county by Rev. J. D. McCollough to Giles Jared Patterson, born Jan. 10, 1827, in Spartanburg county, a son of Edward and Mildred (Lewis) Patterson. By occupation Mr. Patterson was a lawyer, in politics a Democrat, in religion a Methodist. He died Dec. 13, 1891. His widow and children reside in Chester, S. C., and to her we are indebted for all the information of this branch of the family. Patterson children: i. Giles Jared, born Oct. 19, 1885; ii. Mary Virginia, born June 11, 1887; iii. Mildred Lewis, born May 9, 1890.
Caroline Hopkins Ross (Mary Howell, Jesse Howell, John, ——), born March 13, 1852, in Louisiana, was married Dec. 21, 1816, at Spartansburg, S. C., to Dr. William Faber Smith, born May 4, 1834, near Glenn Springs, S. C., son of Elihu Penquite and Christina Maria (Faber) Smith. By occupation he was a physician and surgeon. They resided in Glenn Springs, S. C. Smith children: i. Ralph Henry, born March 9, 1878; ii. Mary Goodwyn, born March 1, 1881.

Capt. Robert Goodwyn, born circa 1740 in Virginia, married Sarah Taylor, born in South Carolina, daughter of Capt. James Taylor. By occupation he was a planter. They resided in a large plantation in South Carolina, where he had gone when very young. His wife was a niece of Col. Thomas Taylor and Capt. Goodwyn commanded a company in Col. Taylor’s regiment during the Revolutionary war. Only child known to me: i. John, married Sarah Taylor.

Dr. Thomas Jefferson Goodwyn (John, Robert) born in 1800 about nine miles from Columbia, S. C., was married in the Orangeburg District, to Eliza Elliot Darby, born in Orangeburg District, daughter of Artemas and Mary Eugenia (Thomson) Darby. By occupation he was a physician, in politics a Democrat and in religion an Episcopalian. They resided in the Orangeburg District and in Columbia, S. C. Dr. Goodwyn died at Fort Motte, S. C., in 1877. He was mayor of Columbia during the war and at the time of Sherman’s march. Children: i. Artemas Darby, born Dec. 10, 1828, married Sarah Ciples Niles; ii. Thomas Jefferson, born 1832, married Mary Charles; iii. John Jesse, married, first, Ella Taylor, second, Genevieve Baker; iv. Mary Engenia, married William Caldwell; v. Edward Middleton, or Midlyton, killed in war, unmarried; vi. Alfred, killed in war, unmarried; vii. Charles Thomson, married Ella Goodwin, his cousin; viii. Margaret Anna, married Thomas Legaré; five others died young.

Sarah Epps Goodwyn (John, Robert), married —— Adams.

Albert T. Goodwyn (Albert Gallatin, John, Robert), born Dec. 17, 1842, in Robinson Springs, Ala., was married Dec. 22, 1869, at Montgomery, Ala., by Rev. Horace Stringfellow, to Priscilla Cooper Tyler, born Oct. 15, 1849, in Bristol, Pa., daughter of Robert and Priscilla (Cooper) Tyler. By occupation he was a planter, in politics a Democrat and in religion a Unitarian. They reside in Robinson Springs (1899). Mr. Goodwyn was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1867, was in Confederate service from beginning to end of the war; captain of sharpshooters at its close; inspector of State convicts from 1874 to 1880; member of House of Representatives from 1886 to 1888; member of State Senate from 1892 to 1896; member of the fifty-fourth Congress from the Fifth District of Alabama; now (1898) contesting for seat in fifty-fifth Congress. Children: i Robert Tyler, born Nov. 4, 1870, married Jessie Lancaster; ii. Adele, born Nov. 6, 1872, married John D. MacNeel; iii. Albert Gallatin, born Oct. 1, 1875; iv. Gardner Foster, born Feb. 17, 1880; v. Priscilla Cooper, born Feb. 25, 1886.
Lieut. John Goodwin resided in South Carolina. He served in First S. C. Reg. July 12, 1778; taken prisoner at Charleston May 12, 1780. Perhaps this is the John Goodwyn who married his cousin Keziah.

Capt. Robert S. Goodwin resided in South Carolina. He was appointed to his captainship of South Carolina Rangers June 17, 1775, in the Thomson Regiment. General Lachlan McIntosh states in his journal for April 26, 1780, that Captain Robert Goodwin was on that day killed in the siege of Charlestown. (See History of Orangeburg County, by A. S. Sally, Jr.) I think this man was a brother of John and son of Captain Robert Goodwin unless, indeed, he is Captain Robert himself, brother of William, which does not seem likely.

Lewis Goodwin resided in South Carolina. He served in Robuck's Regiment, S. C., 1782. (See Rev. Alex. Gregg, D. D., History of the Old Cheraws.)

Britain Goodwin resided in South Carolina. He served in Robuck's Regiment in South Carolina in 1782.

David Goodwin resided in South Carolina. He served in Robuck's Regiment of South Carolina in 1782. I think this is the David Goodwin, of White county, Tenn., who lived in St. David's Parish, S. C., otherwise known as the Pee Dee Section, and that Lewis, David and Britain were brothers.

CHARLESTON, S. C., AND WHITE CO., TENN., GOODWINS.

David Goodwin was born in 1762 and his descendants insist that he was a native of Scotland. His earliest known residence was near Charleston, S. C., but he appears to have removed to the Pee Dee Section, perhaps in Marion county, where he was living when he enlisted in the Revolutionary war. I am inclined to think that he is the David Goodwin who served in Robuck's Regiment in 1782 with Lewis and Britain Goodwin. I have no proof on which to base the assumption, but I am inclined to think that David, Lewis, Britain, Capt. Robert S. and perhaps Lieut. John Goodwin were brothers, or at least closely related, and that they descend from the unknown brother of William and Robert Goodwyn, who came from Dinwiddie county, Va.

However this may be, David Goodwin settled in White county, Tenn., after the Revolutionary war. He was pensioned in 1833, being then seventy-one years of age. I cannot learn the name of his first wife, but his second wife was Nancy Carter, who made her home with her stepson, John T. Goodwin, until her death about 1861. Child by first wife: i. John T., married Mary —__. Children by second wife: ii. Mary Ann, married John Williams; iii. Robert or David, drowned young; iv. William, born Dec. 25, 1809 or 1810, married, first, Charity Linville, second, Jane Soap; v. Jane, married Richard Baker.

John T. Goodwin (David), married Mary —__. He resided in White county, Tenn., at the beginning of the civil war. It is supposed that the family records are in the possession of one of the children, but no communication has been obtained from any of them. Children: i. Alexandrias; ii. Thomas; iii. Peter; iv. Marion; v. Eliza; vi. Mary Jane; vii. Susan.

William Goodwin (David), born Dec. 25, 1809, in Eastern South Carolina, was married, first, at White county, Tenn., to Charity Linville, born 1802 in North Carolina, daughter of Moses Linville, of North Carolina. Charity (Linville) Goodwin died May, 1854. He was married, second, 1854 at Warren county, Tenn., to Jane Soap. By occupation he was a minister, in politics a Whig and Republican and in religion a Baptist. William Goodwin died Jan. 1, 1885, in Cowan, Franklin county, Tenn. Jane (Soap) Goodwin died in Birmingham, Ala., in Aug., 1887; but another account says in Cowan, Franklin county, Tenn. There was still another child by this second marriage, but I can get no response from any of this branch. Children by first wife: i. Louisa Ann, married Marion Williams; ii. James Dossey, born Dec., 1832, married Mary J. Reeder; iii. Mary Susannah, married William P. Howard; iv. William Adolphus, married Elizabeth Keith; v. Robert Mitchell, died young; vi. Isaac Taylor, born July 29, 1840, married Eliza Evaline Harrison; vii. Margaret Caroline, born March 16, 1843, married Edward D. Sawyer; viii. Martha Jane, born July 22, 1845, married Alfred M. Pattison; ix. Joseph Dillard, born March 29, 1847, married Tennessee Reeder. Children by second wife: x. Jeremiah Sherman; xi. Thomas Sheridan, unmarried; xii. Elizabeth, married Samuel Douglas; xiii. —__.

James Dossey Goodwin (William, David), born Dec., 1832, in White county, Tenn., was married May 14, 1856, at Warren county, Tenn., by Shady Green, J. P., to Mary J. Reeder, born Feb. 1, 1836, in Warren county, Tenn. He was in politics a Republican.

Isaac Taylor Goodwin (William, David), born July 29, 1840, in Tennessee, was married Aug. 9, 1865, in Tennessee to Eliza Evaline Harrison, born April 24. 1845, in White county, Tenn., daughter of Solomon and Elizabeth (Pepper) Harrison. They resided in California, Mo., where Mrs. Goodwin died Sept. 14, 1898. The records of this family have been furnished to a very considerable extent by Miss Jennie M. Goodwin, who has for a number of years been connected with the Kansas City Stock Yards. Children: i. Minnie, born Aug. 20, 1867, married Frank L. Tebow, Oct. 25, 1896; ii. Theodore, born July 26, 1869; iii. Jennie M., born Sept. 21, 1871, resides 1329 E. Tenth street, Kansas City, Mo.; iv. Edward, born May 16, 1874; v. Kittie, born March 13, 1877; vi. Edna, born April 18, 1879; vii. Albert, born Feb. 1, 1881; viii. Lola, born Aug. 2, 1887.

SOUTH CAROLINA AND KENTUCKY GOODWINs.

Robert Goodwin resided in South Carolina, probably in or near Greenville. I can get absolutely no information concerning his ancestry, but the Howard and the Griffith families, with which his descendants intermarried, came from Maryland to South Carolina, and perhaps Robert came from that State. He was born about 1735, and was a farmer and miller. He died in South Carolina. It is thought that he had still another son who remained in South Carolina. All of the children here given removed to Tennessee and Kentucky and lost trace of the son who is said to have remained at home. Children: i. Jesse, born about 1760, married, first, ——, second, Susannah Howard; ii. Samuel, married ——, and left issue, untraced; iii. Robert, died unmarried, estate appraised in Christian county, Ky., in 1809; iv. daughter, married —— Langlay and left issue, untraced.

Jesse Goodwin (Robert), born about 1760 in South Carolina, was married, first, at South Carolina, to ——. By occupation he was a miller. They resided in South Carolina and after the death of his wife Jesse married, second, Susannah Howard.* He was a soldier in the Revolutionary war. He left South Carolina around 1793, going first to Middle Tennessee, where he remained for a

* Mr. G. N. Hobbs writes, while visiting in Greenville, S. C., that this town was the home of the Goodwins, and that the name was also spelled Goodwyn; that Edward Howard, father of Susannah, died there, and that Goodwin's mills are still known in the county. He also finds court records (May 7, 1792) of Joseph Goodwin and Frances his wife. I cannot yet "place" Joseph, unless he was the son who remained in South Carolina.

Harrison Goodwin (Samuel, Jesse, Robert), born Dec. 29, 1817, in Christian county, Ky., married, first, Sibyl Wood. After the death of his first wife he married, second, Mary Ann Han-Maggie May Dudley (Virginia Louella, Mary J., Samuel, Jesse, Robert), born May 5, 1876, was married June 2, 1896, to George Nuchols Hobbs. They reside in Covington, Ky., and to Mr. Hobbs is due the credit of having supplied all of the information of this branch of the Goodwin family. Hobbs child: i. Virginia Ann, born April 17, 1898.

SOUTH CAROLINA, KENTUCKY, TENNESSEE AND MISSISSIPPI GOODWINS.

George Goodwin cannot be positively identified from the conflicting data received. A grandson states that George was born in Virginia in 1798, moved to South Carolina; then to Hopkins county, Ky.; later to Tipton county, Tenn., and finally to Fayette county, Miss., where he died in 1863, aged sixty-five years. On page 100 of the 1897 Supplement, at the end of the fourth line, appears the name of George Goodwin, younger brother to Jesse, who was born in 1796, and the data above given would strongly tend to show that the George who died in 1862, aged sixty-five, born therefore in 1798, was the George who was the next younger brother to Jesse, born 1796,* especially as the families seem to have moved along the same general lines and the given names are repeated in the two branches. The data sent by Crawford Goodwin, son of George, would seem to disprove this relationship, for, according to him (and his own birth in 1820, the tenth child of George confirms his statement), his father, George Goodwin, was born in 1782 in South Carolina, a son of a Revolutionary soldier, and there married Polly Mitchell, whose proper name is given me as Rebecca Mitchell and removed to Christian county, Ky., about 1819, as his son George was born in South Carolina in 1818; his son James Martin in Hopkinsville, Christian county, Ky., in 1819, and George then removed to Calloway county, Ky., his son Crawford being born there in 1820. In 1824 or 1825 he removed to Tipton county, Tenn., and remained there until 1834, when he settled in Fayette county, Miss., where he died in 1862. He was a famous hunter of the mighty game which inhabited the Mississippi Valley in those early days. In addition to farming he was also a miller, and this, together with the name Greenberry given to a son, would indicate

*Since writing this, the records of the George of 1798 have come to hand and show that the men were not the same. See page 18.
a possible relationship with the Robert Goodwin who was a miller whose children settled in Christian county, Ky., and in whose family the names Jesse and Greenberry appear. George Goodwin was a Whig in politics and a Methodist in religion. The names of the children are said by Crawford Goodwin to be in the order of their birth, although the dates given in one or two instances by others do not quite correspond with this statement.

The following letter from Crawford Goodwin expresses briefly the fortunes of the life of a pioneer:

"Dear Sir: I will give you a history of my father's career. He was born in South Carolina; was of English origin. His father was a Revolutionary soldier; I think he was born in England. My father married Polly Mitchell, who also lived in South Carolina. I do not know how long they lived there, but from there he took his departure for the new purchase of Kentucky, settling in Calloway county, where he lived for a number of years. About the year 1824 or 1825 he removed to West Tennessee and lived there for ten or twelve years. He settled in Tipton county, which borders on the Mississippi river. The county was then in a wild state of nature and the bears, deer, panthers, wolves, wild cats and even elkcs roamed in an undisputed sway. My father was a great hunter at this period, and three or four of his boys were then grown. In those days he kept a pack of bear dogs in self-defence, for no one lived within ten miles of his camp. He owned a number of horses and cattle. The buffalo gnats were very bad in the spring of the year, and I can remember he would make smokes for the cattle and the deer would stand with the cattle over the smoke. He removed from Tipton county, Tenn., in 1834 to Lafayette county, Miss., where he died in 1862. He was most distinguished as a woodsman.

"I myself gained some distinction in Mexico this day fifty-two years ago, when I had the honor of participating in the battle of Buena Vista. My father never remained long enough in one place to give his numerous offspring an education, so that some of the Goodwin family are not as polished as others who have had better advantages, but nevertheless I am proud of the name.

"Very sincerely yours,

"CRAWFORD GOODWIN."

RABUN CO., N. C. (GEORGIA?), GOODWINS.

The family tradition is that one brother remained in Virginia, while the other brother removed to Rabun county, N. C. I have not been able to identify Rabun as a county in North Carolina. Perhaps it should be Rabun county, Georgia, which is on the North Carolina line. The grandchildren of Thaddeus Goodwin say that, so far as they know, he was the only child of the brother who moved South.

David Wesley Goodwin (Joshua, Thaddeus), born February 15, 1838, in Anderson District, S. C., was married in 1859, in Greene county, to Lucretia Clay Littleton, born in 1844, in Warren county, Ga., a daughter of James Madison and Abigail (Gheesling) Littleton. Mr. Goodwin is a merchant, and resided in Greensboro and (1899) Crawford, Ga. He is a Democrat and a Methodist. Children: i. Emma Dodd, born June 21, 1861, married Dr. J. H. Gheesling; ii. VIRGINIA AND KENTUCKY GOODWIN S AND GOODIN S.

This is one family whose power of resistance has proved greater than my strength of pull, and the result is the few fragments which may be pieces of one or of two families. The origin of the family may be indicated by the records of Captain Harrod's company in 1781, which was recruited principally in Jefferson and Shelby counties, Ky., and contained the names of Samuel and Isaac Goodwin. As the earliest known ancestor in this family was an Isaac Goodwin, born in Virginia, having a son Samuel, among others, and living in Hardin county, Ky., before 1800, it is quite possible that he was the Isaac, with a brother Samuel, in Captain Harrod's company. Mr. J. C. Goodin, of Loudoun county, Va., has no knowledge of this family.

Robert Goodin (Thomas, Isaac), born 1831, in Hardin county, Ky., was married in 1853 to Rose Ann Warren, born in 1830, in Hardin county, a daughter of James and Sallie (Harrel) Warren. Mr. Goodin is a brick contractor, residing in Lebanon, Ky. Children: i. Warren Thomas, born 1855; ii. Mary Teresa, born

Robert Grant Goodin (Robert, Thomas, Isaac), born in 1863 in Hardin county, Ky., was married in 1886 in Lebanon, Ky., to Effie Bowman, born in 1865 in Jackson, Miss., a daughter of James and Julia (Boardman) Bowman. Mr. Goodin is the proprietor of a general store in Lebanon, Ky. Children: i. Hilda Mary, born 1887; ii. Julia Rose, born 1891; iii. Carrie, born 1893; iv. James Clifton, born 1895; v. Pauline Cecelia, born 1897.

Thomas Goodin lived in Hodginsville, La Rue county, Ky. I can get no information of any relatives, but apparently he was related to the Isaac and Samuel Goodin of Captain Harrod’s company. Child (only one known to me): Isaac, married Sallie Edelen.

Isaac Goodin (Thomas), born January ———, in Hodginsville, Ky., was married to Sallie Edelen, born in Hodginsville, a daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth ( ) Edelen. Mr. Goodin was a farmer. He died aged about sixty years. His wife died aged about eighty-five years. Children: i. Benjamin, resides in Madison, Ind.; ii. Samuel, resides in Madison, Ind.; iii. William, resides in Edinburg, Ind.; iv. James, resides in Edinburg, Ind.; v. Thomas A., born November 24, 1863, married Amanda D. Emrich.

Thomas A. Goodin (Isaac, Thomas), born November 24, 1863, in Hodginsville, Ky., was married December 4, 1884, in Shelbyville, Ind., to Amanda D. Emrich, born December 28, 1865, in Dayton, Ohio, a daughter of Christopher and Lydia ( ) Emrich. Mr. Goodin is proprietor of a restaurant in Edinburg, Ind. (the birthplace of the compiler of these records). Children: i. Carrie L., born October 2, 1885; ii. Minnie L. B., born May 5, 1887; iii. Orie S., died March 3, 1888; iv. Florence O., born September 10, 1891.

William H. Goodin and Thomas Goodin, of Hodginsville, Ky., belong to this family, but no reply has been received from either, and the exact relationship is unknown.
William Goodwin was born in South Carolina, and married Sarah Jane ——. They resided in Humphreys county, Tenn., where their children, or a number of them, were born, and where Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin died while their children were young, so that it has been impossible to learn of the family connection of William Goodwin. The names of the children cannot be determined with certainty. I give two lists of children: i. William; ii. Abraham; iii. John; iv. Thomas Henry, married Louisa Jane McElyea; v. Paton Smith, born June 10, 1823, married —— Morrisett; vi. Sarah Jane, born February 17, 1833, married James Weaver Shepperd; vii. Elizabeth; viii. Polly; ix. Narcis America. Or: i. Williamson; ii. John; iii. William; iv. Polly D.; v. Nettie (Narcis); vi. Elizabeth; vii. Thomas S.; viii. Henry Hartwell; ix. Paton Smith; x. Thomas.

Thomas Henry Goodwin (William), may be the Thomas and Henry Hartwell of the second set of children, and the seventh and eighth names be the name of one child instead of two. This would seem the reasonable explanation, inasmuch as Thomas named his first child Henry Hartwell. Thomas married Louisa Jane McElyea, a daughter of Hiram and —— (Morrisett) McElyea. He was a blacksmith, and resided in Hustburg, Humphreys county, where he died November 18, 1874, aged about fifty years. His wife died in Kentucky. Children: i. Henry Hartwell, married Irene Lewis; ii. Robert Carroll, married Mollie Warren; iii. Christopher Columbus, born October 15, 1850, married Josie Warren; iv. Linsay Ewing, married Ida Scott; v. Frances Victoria, married Jefferson Plant; vi. Felix Grundy, married Amanda Warren; vii. William Bradley, born February 3, 1872, married Missie Dale.

Christopher Columbus Goodwin (Thomas Henry, William), born October 15, 1850, in Humphreys county, was married December 24, 1873, to Josephine Warren, born October 7, 1856, in Humphreys county, a daughter of Z. and —— (Cleghorn) Warren. By occupation he is a farmer, and resides (1899) in Hustburg, Tenn. Children: i. Eula Elizabeth, born February 3, 1875, married Charles Neeld; ii. Jay Cleveland; iii. Laura; iv. Ibbie; v. Dana (twin); vi. Hazel (twin); vii. Jesse Ewin; viii. William Fowler.

Paton Smith Goodwin (William), born June 10, 1823, in Humphreys county, Tenn., was married in December, 1845, to —— Morrisett, born 1827 in Humphreys county, a daughter of Jonathan and Polly ( ) Morrisett. He is a farmer residing (1899) in Hustburg, Tenn. Children: i. Thomas; ii. George; iii. Mary Jane; iv. William; v. Udorah; vi. Lou; vii. Frank; viii. Effie.

Sarah Jane Goodwin (William), born February 17, 1833, in Humphreys county, Tenn., was married December 4, 1848, in Lawrence county, Tenn., to James Weaver Shepperd, a son of B. F. and Nancy (Dennis) Shepherd. She resides (1899) in Rector, Clay county, Ark.

DEARBORN CO., IND., GOODWINS.

— Goodwin, is said to have been born in Wales. He married and had children: i. John, married ——; ii. James, married ——, and settled in some county in Indiana on the “Brandywine Creek”; iii. Aaron, married ——, and resided in the same county with his brother James.

John Goodwin, born in Wales, married ——. By occupation he was a millwright. He resided in Wales, removing to America and settling in Dearborn county, Ind. Children: i. Preston, born 1811, married ——; ii. Noah, married —— and had a large family, untraced; iii. Zedock, married —— and had William, John and Samuel; iv. Jonathan, married —— and had a large family, untraced; he died before 1893; v. Aaron, married —— and resided in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Preston Goodwin (John), born in 1811, was married in 1833 to ——. Preston Goodwin became crippled in 1836, and died in 1847. Children: i. William H. H., born 1836; ii. Lavinia Ann.

William H. H. Goodwin (Preston, John), born in 1836, was married to ——. They resided in Paragon, Morgan county, Ind. (1896), (or Ridge Farm, Vermilion county, Ill.) He was a soldier of the civil war, and was present when General Fry killed Zollacoffer.

TISHOMINGO CO., MISS., GOODWINS.

James Goodwin appears to have been of Eastern origin, and to have had brothers living in St. Louis. The family is said to have been wealthy, but James seems to have been estranged from his family. He was twice married, and resided near Iuka, Tisho-
William and Mary College Quarterly.

William Samuel Goodwin, born 1845 in Iuka, Miss., was married in August, 1869, at Cooperstown, Ill., to Adelia Theresa Hedrick, born November 18, 1848, in Eaton, Ohio, a daughter of David and Susan (Snider) Hedrick. He was a farmer residing in Cooperstown, Ill. Children: i. George William, born April 7, 1870; ii. John Thomas, born October 24, 1872, died in December, 1872; iii. Laura Alice, born October 26, 1874; iv. Ida May, born April 27, 1876, married John Sullivan; v. Robert Hedrick, born May 1, 1880.

BAILEY’S HARBOR, WIS., GOODWINs.

Frederick Goodwin came to Bailey’s Harbor in 1865. He was then about thirty-five years of age, and is said to have come from some place in New York. He was married to Eunice Lincoln at Crystal Lake, Ill., in 1867. Mr. Goodwin was a shoemaker. In less than a year after his marriage he mysteriously disappeared and all inquiries concerning him have proved fruitless. To this marriage was born one child named Cora E., who resides in Hennepin, Ill., and who would be very glad to receive any information concerning her father or his people.

ELIZABETH CITY, VA., GOODWINs.

HARTFORD, CONN., GOODWINS.

The very complete records of the Hartford Goodwins, compiled for Hon. James J. Goodwin, fails to trace the family of Eleazer Goodwin number 850 of that work. His descendants have been found in the search for the Southern Goodwins, but the name is spelled Goodwyn.

Eleazer Goodwin (Eleazer, Eleazer, Nathaniel, William, Ozias), born in New Hartford, Connecticut, and baptized there April 12, 1767, married January 24, 1788, Hannah Merrill, born in 1767, and died February 10, 1813. Her father died April 22, 1812, aged sixty-six years, and her mother died July 19, 1833, aged eighty-eight years. They resided, according to the Hartford Goodwin book, in Bridgewater, Oneida county, N.Y., in 1800, and in Sangerfield, in the same county, in 1805. From the Merrill family came the Skaneateles estate, which was never satisfactorily settled, owing to the impossibility of finding all the heirs. The names of the children differ slightly from the Hartford record. The latter gives Clarissa instead of Clarinda, and does not give a Harvey or a Harriet, while the Southern records omit Hiram, Harlow and Elizabeth. Children: i. Clarinda (Clarissa), baptized Aug. 23, 1789, living in 1890; ii. Hiram, baptized October 27, 1793; iii. Elias, born February 21, 1794, married Elizabeth Tarlton; iv. Harlow; v. Philo, married and left six children; vi. Harvey, married and left two children; vii. Elizabeth; viii. Harriet, living in 1890.

Elias Goodwin (Eleazer), born February 21, 1794, married September 14, 1819, Elizabeth Tarlton, born January 18, 1803, daughter of Jeremiah and Catherine (Hilemon) Tarlton, who were married March 1, 1791. They resided in or near New Albany, Ind., where Mr. Goodwin died January 24, 1836. On December 25, 1836, his widow married Theodore J. Barnett, by whom she had two children, Maria L., born January 15, 1838, and Isabella K., born July 29, 1840. About 1825 Philo M. Goodwin moved to New Orleans and changed the spelling of the name to Goodwyn. His four brothers also made the same change when they removed to New Orleans a few years later. Rev. Alexander E. Goodwyn is said to have the complete family records, but no reply has been received from him, a change of residence now Simeon Tarlton Goodwyn (Elias, Eleazar), born March 6, 1822, near New Albany, Ind., married, first, in 1855, at Louisville, Ky., Maggie McChesney, born in Frankfort, Ky., daughter of John C. and Jane D. (Hardin) McChesney, she a sister of P. Wat. Hardin. By occupation he was a bookkeeper, in politics a Democrat, and in religion a Methodist. They resided in New Orleans, La., where he died January 2, 1896. His first wife died in Carroll county, Miss., August 21, 1864. The names of his second and third wives have not been furnished. By occupation he was a mechanic, in politics a Democrat, and in religion a Methodist. They resided in New Orleans, and (1899) Taylor, Texas. Child: i. Clarence M., born February 24, 1884.

By occupation he was a merchant, in politics a Democrat, and in religion a Methodist. They resided in New Orleans, where Mrs. Goodwyn died February 2, 1872. Mr. Goodwyn was married, second, January 25, 1877, in New Orleans, to Emma C. Garrett. They resided after 1883 in Waco, Texas, where Mr. Goodwyn died October 14, 1898. A Bible entry shows that his mother’s sister married a Warfield, which accounts for one of Mr. Goodwyn’s given names. Emma Calhoun, who married Benjamin Moss Goodwyn, is a sister of Hon. William J. Calhoun, of Danville, Ill., an Interstate railway commissioner. Children by first wife: i. Annie, born 1846, died young; ii. Lizzie, born 1848, died young; iii. George Nicholas, born March 28, 1850, married, first, Mrs. Emma (Barkdull) Warne, second, Nannie Eliza Miles; iv. Harvey, born 1852, died in 1858; v. Willie, born 1854, died in 1858; vi. She died in July, 1892. By occupation he was a travelling salesman, in politics a Democrat, and in religion a Methodist. Mr. Goodwyn married, second, October, 1895, in Atlanta, Texas, Nannie Eliza Miles, born December, 1868, in Jefferson, Texas, a daughter of Aquilla and Alice (Covey) Miles, of Atlanta, Texas, where Mr. and Mrs. Goodwyn now reside. DELAWARE WATER GAP, PA., TOMPKINS CO., N. Y., AND LUZERNE CO., PA., GOODWINS.

The early records of this family have been supplied by persons not related to it, and it is proper that fitting acknowledgment should be made to Mr. L. W. Brodhead, of Delaware Water Gap, and to Mr. Charles F. Mulks, of Ithaca, N. Y. The records left in Pennsylvania were very meagre, but Mr. Mulks, who has made a life-study of the history of his home, and who has contributed many valuable articles to the press in relation thereto, found a rich field, and cultivated it so well that he was able to render invaluable assistance, not only in filling out records already had in part, but in reconstructing an entire branch of the family.

Abraham Goodwin was born about 1719. The only knowledge of his name is preserved through a statement made by the minister who officiated at the funeral of a grandson of this man named Abraham Goodwin, to the effect that the grandson, who was a son of Abraham Goodwin, of Luzerne county, Pa., was the third in succession to bear the name Abraham. This statement was made on authority of aged relatives of Abraham³, since deceased. Investigation appears to sustain the correctness of this statement, but it has not been possible either to prove or to disprove another statement that Abraham⁵ was really the seventh in line to bear that name. In searching for the name among early settlers brief records of an Abraham Goodwin of Essex county, N. J., were found, but the information furnished by Mr. Warren S. Ely, relating to the Maryland Goodwins, proves conclusively that this Essex county man was Abraham Godwin. An Abraham Goodwin, carpenter, is mentioned in the Pennsylvania archives as being connected with some of the colonial troops around 1750. An Abraham Goodwin, perhaps the same as the last one, was living in Nockamixon Township, Bucks county, Pa., in 1753. Mr. Brodhead writes, April 14, 1899, that there were surveyed to Abraham Goodwin one hundred and four acres of land in Nockamixon Township, on a warrant dated December 8, 1749. He also adds that it is only thirty-five miles between this township and Smithfield. I think this was very probably the Abraham Goodwin of Delaware Water Gap, for William Goodwin, eldest son of the first Abraham, resided for many years in Smithfield Township, and indeed Delaware Water Gap itself is in this township, and until about 1752 this township was included in Bucks county. A few Goodwin traces are to be found yet in Bucks county, and it is the opinion of Mr. Ely that the family came with others from Salem, N. J. The Goodwins of Salem, N. J., are fairly well traced, however, and the only chance of relationship in it would be that Abraham, born about 1719, had been omitted in the list of children, and belonged between John, born 1716, and Thomas, born 1721. There is a gap there otherwise unexplained, but there is absolutely no proof of any child being omitted from the Salem list. No records have been found showing when or where Abraham Goodwin was born or died, or the name of his wife, or, in fact, any particulars of his life, except some of his children. One descendant says Abraham was born in Connecticut, and went to Pennsylvania from that State, but I find no proof of this. It has been impossible to prove or to disprove the relationship of Elijah, shown as the fifth child. He lived in an adjoining township in Luzerne county, Pa., to Abraham, known to be a son; and as no other Goodwin family is known to have lived in that county, it would seem probable that two brothers removed to Luzerne county when three brothers went to New York. With the exception of the uncertainty regarding Elijah the following is a correct, if not a full, list of Abraham Goodwin's children: i. William, born in 1744, married Ruth Gibbs; ii. Benjamin, born 1746, married Mary Mack; iii. Richard, born February 17, 1748, married ——; iv. Abraham, born 1750, married Catherine King; v. Elijah, born ——, married, first, ——, second, ——.

William Goodwin (Abraham), born 1744, married probably at Delaware Water Gap, Pa., Ruth Gibbs. By occupation he was a miller and farmer. They resided in Delaware Water Gap, Pa., until in 179—, when they removed to East Lansing, Tompkins county, N. Y. Mr. George G. Shafer, surveyor, Mountain Home, Pa., kindly sends statement that John Scott, of Mount Bethel, Pa., gave a mortgage to William Goodwin, of Lower Smithfield, Pa., dated April 23, 1783, Delaware Water Gap lying between these two settlements. In 1787 William Goodwin and wife Ruth executed a release deed. The records of the Dutch Reformed Church of Smithfield show that in April 1775 Richard Goodwin, Jr., and Sarah Goodwin (and Sarah Morgan) were examined and admitted to the sacrament. The two were evidently the children of William, but must have been young. An account book, now in the possession of Mr. Brodhead, belonging to Aaron Dupuy, who resided in Smithfield Township, commenced in 1743, contains a running account with William Goodwin beginning July 1, 1786, for rye and buckwheat, and ending December 11, 1790. Richard Goodwin’s name is also mentioned. After removing to Tompkins county, N. Y., Mr. Goodwin was for many years a justice of the peace, and a prominent man in the new settlement. His will mentions all of his children except Catherine, and gives to several of his grandchildren, his grandson Edwin Weyburn getting a horse worth fifty dollars, and also receiving a clock for his summer’s work. Considerable of the information of this branch has been furnished by Mr. R. V. Morgan, Peruville, N. Y., who descends from Sarah Goodwin and Evan Morgan, her husband, but no attempt has been made to trace the descendants in the female line.

The following is taken from the Ithaca Chronicle of February 1, 1826:

Died.—In Lansing, on the evening of the 20th ult., William Goodwin, Esq.,* in the eighty-third year of his age. Mr. Goodwin was one of the first settlers in our country, and the person who cleared the way and drove the first wagon from Oswego, the head of Cayuga Lake. He was a believer in the restitution of all things, and after praying for death a long time, met it with a smile, perfectly reconciled to his fate, and in full hopes of a blessed immortality beyond the grave. [Communicated.]

Richard Goodwin (William, Abraham), born probably in Delaware Water Gap, Pa., married, first, —— Weyburn. After the death of his first wife, Richard Goodwin married a second time, and removed with his wife and their child to Michigan. Children by first wife: i. William, married and settled near Detroit, Mich., untraced; ii. Edwin Weyburn, born 1800, married, first, Almira Ives, born January 1, 1801, in Wyoming county, Pa., daughter of Josiah and Lucy (Williams) Ives, and who died about 1837. He was married, second, May, 1839, at South Lansing, N. Y., by Rev. Dana Fox, to Almira LaBarre, born October 29, 1817, in South Lansing, N. Y., daughter of Ephraim and Clarissa (Ives) LaBarre. By occupation he was an artist and portrait painter, in politics an Abolitionist, and in religion a Methodist. He resided in Dryden, Ludlowville and Auburn, N. Y., and after his second marriage, in Albany. He was largely self-educated, and on reaching manhood was selected from year to year school commissioner, until he removed from his native town. From the first no candidate was nominated against him. For a short time he was engaged in a merchandise undertaking, such as is described as the village store. At the age of twenty-nine, having shown decided talent, he took up seriously as a profession the art of painting. Studying later with New York artists of note, he became one of the very first painters of his time. His minatures were and are marvels of beauty in design and finish. Competing on one occasion with Inman and Harding on a full-length portrait, his portrait of William H. Seward was accepted by the city of Albany, and it now hangs in the capitol. President Martin Van Buren, William H. Seward, DeWit Clinton, James G. Birney, candidate of the Abolitionists, Gerrit Smith, and many men of prominence, were painted by him, and were his warm personal friends. There are now in possession of his son, Richard LaBarre Goodwin, letters which show the warm regard in which he was held by them. Perhaps it was 1843 or 1844 that he assumed ownership and became editor of the anti-slavery Albany paper, The Tocsin of Liberty. He lectured on Emancipation in different parts of the State (New York). His home was one of the underground railroad depots for the fugitives. He delivered a lecture called “Don’t Bring it into the Church,” referring to emancipation, for which he was disciplined by his church (the Methodist Episcopal) of Auburn, N. Y. (1837). He delivered the first total abstinence temperance lecture in Central New York at Ludlowville, hearing which the famous Benjamin Joy was so moved that he destroyed his still and became best known of all temperance workers and speakers in that part of the State. His Christian, manly character continued to be everywhere remarked upon by all who knew him through the years that have elapsed since his death in 1845. Overwork in the cause of the church, emancipation, temperance and his art wore out his life at the age of forty-five. Almira (LaBarre) Goodwin resides (1897) in Ithaca, N. Y. Children by first wife: i. Charles, born ——, died aged fourteen years; ii. Mary Elizabeth, born February 27, 1827, married Peleg Chesebrough; iii. Fitch Reed, to Peleg Chesebrough, born November 26, 1826, in Ithaca, son of Peleg and Sarah (Moore) Chesebrough. Y., to Wheeler Saxton, born July 6, 1830, son of Gilbert and Mary (Hasbrouck) Saxton. By occupation he was a cigar-maker, in politics a Democrat, and in religion a Methodist. Knettles, born November 25, 1841, in South Lansing, daughter of Henry and Rachel (Teeter) Knettles. By occupation he was a farmer, in politics a Democrat, and in religion a Methodist. They reside in Ludlowville, N. Y. (1899), but formerly lived in Asbury, N. Y., removing to Oregon for a few years. Children: i. Kate Almira, born December 30, 1869, married Ernest Thayer; ii. Claribel, born September 3, 1868.

William Goodwin (William, Abraham) was born probably in Delaware Water Gap, Pa. By occupation he was a farmer. He was married and resided in Lansing, N. Y. In 1831 William Goodwin, Jr., appears as grantor in a deed, and in 1822 he and his father joined in a deed to his brother-in-law, Evan Morgan, conveying a saw-mill on “Goodwin’s Mill Creek.” In 1830, four years after the death of the elder William, a deed is recorded from William Goodwin, and William Goodwin, Jr., and Fanny Goodwin his wife, of Lansing. Doubtless there was a delay in recording the deed, as it was not possible for William, Jr., to have become William, Sr., by his father’s death, and to have had a son William, Jr., a married man. It therefore appears that this deed gives us the name of the wife of William, Jr. He is thought to have removed to near Lansing, Mich., about 1830, and nothing is known of any descendants.

Sarah Goodwin (William, Abraham), born in 1768 in Smithfield, Delaware Water Gap, Pa., married Evan Morgan, born in 1766 in Delaware Water Gap. They resided in Lansing, N. Y., where Mrs. Morgan died March 20, 1837. Mr. Morgan died August 11, 1842. Mr. R. V. Morgan, Peruville, N. Y., descends from this marriage, and has assisted very materially in obtaining the records of the Goodwin family. The names of the Morgan descendants have not been furnished.

Catherine Goodwin (William, Abraham), born September, 1776, in Delaware Water Gap, Pa., married General Henry Bloom, born 1767, son of Abram Bloom, a gun-maker in the Revolutionary war, and who died aged one hundred and four years. They resided a short distance from her father’s. Mr. Bloom became a very noted man, being State senator (voting for the Erie Canal bill), sheriff, and large property owner. He died in 1818 Catherine (Goodwin) Bloom died at Asbury, in Lansing, November 17, 1794, the first of the settlers to die in their new home Bloom child: i. William, shot and killed in the battle of Queens- ton, on the Canada border, in the war of 1812.

Benjamin Goodwin (Abraham), born in 1746, was married January 4, 1769, at Delaware Water Gap, Pa., to Mary Mack born September 28, 174–. By occupation he was a farmer. They resided in Pennsylvania until about 1795, when he removed with his family to Tompkins county, N. Y. His will was proved August 12, 1822. Mary Mack was probably a sister George Mack, as the following entry appears in Benjamin Goodwin’s Bible: “Mary Mack, daughter of George and Phoebe Mack, was born on Sunday, August the 19, 1781.” Children: i. Richard, born December 25, 1769, married Prudence Frances Hollister; ii. Ann, born June 17, 1774, married John Smith; iii. John M(ack); born November 19, 1776; iv. William, died July, 1777.

Rev. Richard Goodwin (Benjamin, Abraham), born December 25, 1769, was married June 3, 1792, at Delaware Water Gap, Pa., to Prudence Frances Hollister, born April 19, 1771, daughter of Elijah Hollister. By occupation he was a merchant and minister, and in religion a Methodist. They resided in Taughanick Point, Cayuga Lake, seven miles north of Ithaca, N. Y. This place was formerly known as Goodwin’s Point. Some time after Mr. Goodwin came to Goodwin’s Point a Methodist Episcopal itinerant came along, and Mrs. Goodwin entertained and invited him to hold service in her house. The Presbyterian church at Ithaca, of which Mr. Goodwin and his wife were members, arraigned her and excommunicated her “for allowing a Methodist Episcopal service in her house.” Mr. Goodwin arose and told them “that a church too good for my wife to belong to is not good enough for me, and I withdraw.” They soon after joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and not very long after Bishop Asbury ordained Mr. Goodwin, getting down off of his horse, in the woods, with a number of ministers that were on their way home from conference, on meeting Mr. Goodwin, who had been detained by high water. Richard Goodwin died January 29, 1842. Prudence Frances (Hollister) Goodwin died June 10, 1845. Her parents resided in the Wyoming Valley, and were captives in the massacre. Children: i. Elijah Hollister

Death of Mrs. Mary Goodwin Jewell.—Contributed.—
Mrs. Mary Goodwin Jewell, of Dryden, widow of Michael Jewell and only surviving child of Benjamin Goodwin, was born at Goodwin's Point (now called Taughanic) June 4, 1816, and died May 22, 1893, at the home of her daughter in this city, where she had been staying since January last. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Trumansburg when about twelve years of age, and retained her sweet, loving, patient Christian character to the last. Three children are left to mourn her loss, Albert Jewell, and Mrs. Gertrude Whittaker, of this city, and John Jewell, of Dryden. The friends tender heartfelt thanks to all who kindly gave help and sympathy during her severe and prolonged suffering. Her home on the farm, about four miles east of the city, to which she expected to return if she recovered, was very dear to her, as also were her neighbors who gave kind appreciation to her loving, unselfish character. Especially was she an affectionate friend to the children of her neighborhood, as were they to her. All who knew her, knew her but to love her.
They will miss her pleasant face and generous, neighborly kindness.

THE GOODWINS OF KENT CO., MARYLAND, AND NEW CASTLE, DELAWARE.

While it is known that Devoreaux Goodwin settled in Kent county about 1643 and had children, yet it has not been possible to trace any of the Maryland families to him. I can find no record of the ancestry of John Gooden, of Philadelphia, but am indebted to Mr. Gilbert Cope, the genealogist of West Chester, Pa., for the following account of him:

At Philadelphia Monthly Meeting of Friends, 4th of first month, 1683-'84:

"John Gooden, proposing his intentions of marriage with Sarah Kitchen, It was ordered by the meeting that Samuel Carpenter and John Goodson do enquire into his manner of Life and Conversation, and his clearness from Engagements, and make report thereof to the Clerk of the meeting, that so a Certificate may accordingly be either granted him or refused, and if he appear clear, it is agreed by the meeting that the Clerk do grant him a Certificate in the name of the meeting."

(She belonged to Abington Monthly Meeting, Philadelphia county.)

At Philadelphia Monthly Meeting, "held at the meeting house upon the front of Delaware the twenty-seventh of the third month, 1687."

"Melissant Hodgkins and Elizabeth Frampton presents George Smedley and Sarah Gooden, who published their intentions of marriage, it being the first time, friends appoint William Southerby and William Boulding to Enquire into the mans clearness, and also to assist them in securing something for the womans Child, and make report thereof to the next monthly meeting."

"At our Monthly Meeting, held at the meeting house upon the front of Delaware this Twenty-fourth of the fourth month, 1687. George Smedley & Sarah Gooden presented themselves the second time, and published their intentions of marriage. Friends that were appointed to Enquire into their clearness from this meeting and also from the womens meeting. Report that they know of nothing to obstruct their proceedings, But that before the Consummation thereof friends desire the said George to give a Bond unto Thomas Kitchen for what is due unto Sarah Gooden’s Child by a former husband.”

While this account does not give the name of the child of John Goodwin, yet it is stated by Mr. Warren S. Ely, the genealogist of Doylestown, Pa., that the Goodwins of New Castle, Del., and Kent county, Md., descend from this John Goodwin. If this is the case, then this son was named Samuel Goodwin. He married Alindon or Eleanor ——. They resided in Kent county, Md., where Samuel’s will dated August 17, 1735, was proved June 12, 1736; recorded at Annapolis, Md. Samuel owned one hundred acres in Baltimore county, on the west side of Chesapeake Bay, and south side of Sues Creek, part of “Old Sues,” known as Norwich, formerly belonging to Thomas Long, “late of Baltimore, deceased.” The deed to Samuel was dated November 21, 1727. Children: i. Samuel; ii. Abraham; iii. Ann; iv. Cotton (daughter). I am in receipt from Mr. Ely of the following data, which indicates that Samuel, the eldest son, married Sarah ——, and died in 1747, and it is probable that some of the others were his children. I am not able to classify them:

Warren S. Ely, Doylestown, Penn.:

Dear Friend: I have made a search of the marriage license for Baltimore city and county from 1777 to 1798 to-day, and in this search I find some matter that may interest thee, if thee did not obtain it when in this city.

Taken from the marriage license, now in Baltimore:

1778, August 10th, Francis Ward and Sarah Goodwin, by Rev. Allison.

1781, September 22d, James Goodwin and Catharine Williams.

1783, December 22d, John Coleman and Pleasance Goodwin.

1784, August 4th, William Wilkins and Aschah Goodwin.

1798, February 15th, Moses Goodwin and Elizabeth Goaghagen.

In searching on another family I came across the Godwin family in connection with my searching, also one of the descendants of the family. He informs me that the family settled and lived about Wilmington, Del., and that it is not of the Goodwin family. That the name is pronounced God-win, and not Goodwin, the family thee was in search of.

If I can assist thee in any way please let me hear from thee.

Very truly thy friend,
Kirk Brown.
THE GOODWINS OF PORTER'S, MARYLAND.

Richard Goodwin (Alexander), born June 28, 1807, married ——. They resided at Noblesville, Ind.

THE GOODWINS OF BALTIMORE, MARYLAND.

Austin Goodwin (Austin), married Ann Mugglesworth. It is probable that Austin Goodwin was the father of Henry, who married his cousin, Susanna Dixon, as Nathaniel had no sons, Cornelius had no children, Lyde had no son Henry, Lionel is not known to have married while Austin, the remaining brother, is known to have married and Henry is therefore credited to him. Child: i. Henry, married Susanna Dixon.

Henry Goodwin (Austin, Austin), married Susanna Dixon, daughter of John and Ann (Goodwin) Dixon. Mr. Dixon was a Virginia merchant, and it is supposed he resided in Virginia. The Goodwins of Atlanta, Ga., descend from a Henry Goodwin said to have been born in Wales, and to have lived in Virginia, and then moved to South Carolina. This Henry, son of Austin, is the only Henry I have found in Virginia, and was of the same generation as the Henry who moved to South Carolina, but I have no data sufficient to prove or disprove their identity.

William Goodwin (Lyde, Austin), born March 30, 1745, in Maryland, married, March 30, 1773, Milcah Dorsey, born March 30, 1747, daughter of Caleb and Priscilla (Hill) Dorsey. THE GOODWINS OF ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

Henry Goodwin is said, according to the statement of one descendant, to have been the ancestor of this family, none of the others ever having heard his name. He was born in Virginia, according to this account, married and removed about 1770 to South Carolina. The only Henry Goodwin of this generation in this part of America, so far as I have been able to ascertain, is the Henry Goodwin of the Baltimore, Md., Goodwins. Another account is that this man, whether his name was Henry or not, was born in Wales as were his children. I can get no certain data concerning him. Children: i. moving to Kentucky, where they resided near Franklin. They eventually removed to DeKalb county, Ga., settling about eight miles from Atlanta. THE GOODWINS OF LOUISVILLE, KY.

The following records came to hand in one letter, the only answer to four years of requests for information, and then not from a Goodwin, but from one who had married a Goodwin. I have not the slightest idea of the origin of this family.

David Rogers Goodwin (Archie, Solomon), born April 4, 1834, near Louisville, Ky., was married in 1855, near Milwaukee, to Martha Delapp, born May 14, 1837, in New York, a daughter of John and Levisa (Green) Delapp. He is a farmer, a Democrat and a Baptist. His wife died in 1878 in Thorpe, Wis. Children: i. Archie L., born February, 1859, married Clara Clark; ii. David A., born October 8, 1860, married, first, Hattie

* An Abraham Goodwin married Barbara Sturgeon, June 12, 1792, in Nelson Co., Ky. The date of birth of this Solomon is only estimated, and it may be that his descendants have become "mixed" on names, and that Solomon was Abraham. She the Goodwins and Goodins of Nelson, Hardin and LaRue Counties, Kentucky, page 48.

John L. Goodwin (David Rogers, Archie, Solomon), born November 10, 1866, in Sauk county, Wis., was married September 29, 1885, at Thorpe, Wis., to Zina Salisbury, born April 11, 1868, in Chippewa county, Wis., a daughter of Willis L. and Emeline (Cole) Salisbury. He is a lumberman residing at Minong, Wis.

The Goodwins of Clark Co., Indiana.

Edward Goodwin was born in August, 1717, and died in Clark county, Ind., in May, 1826, aged one hundred and eight years. His tombstone says he was the husband of Mary Goodwin. Of his early life no records surviving. Family traditions disagree as to his place of birth, it being stated to be Wales and again in England, but no proof is offered. It is thought that he lived for a while in "Jersey," or perhaps New Jersey, and an Amos or Amus Goodwin of Middlesex county, N. J., a private, is thought by some to have been either a brother or a son of Edward. Our Edward is supposed to have moved through Bucks county, Penn., into Virginia. I consider all of these traditions as exceedingly unreliable in the present condition of confusion in the Goodwin records. Abraham Goodwin, fife major in New York line, residing at Patterson, Essex county, N. J., proves to be a Godwin. Abraham Goodwin, private of Forty-first Pennsylvania, Provincial Army, 1758, a carpenter, and afterwards colonel of militia, resided in Bucks county, and is supposed to be the ancestor of the Goodwins of Delaware Water Gap, Pa. Some of the descendants of John Goodwin of the Salem, N. J., Goodwins appear to have settled in Bucks county, and an Amos Goodin left there in 1760 for Loudoun county, Va.

The first definite information is that Edward resided in Culpepper county, and then removed to Augusta county, Va., where he resided for a number of years. An Edward Goodwin served as an officer under Colonel George Washington in his campaign on the Monongehala in 1754, and was allotted land under Governor Dinwiddie's proclamation, and an Edward Goodwin served in the French and Indian wars of 1771 in Captain Hogg's company, George Washington, colonel. I have found no other Edward Goodwin in all the family records pertaining to the Southern Goodwins, and think it extremely probable that these records all refer to this Edward, as he is known to have been living in Virginia in 1758, in which year his son William was born, very probably in Augusta county. An "English Colony," of which Joseph Goodwin was a member (see Appendix L, 1897 Supplement), settled in Augusta county about this time, but it is not known that Joseph was one of the sons of Edward, although he was of an age to have been an elder son. Judge Willis Wallace Goodwin, a grandson of Edward, was convinced that there was an English estate belonging to the family and collected many papers bearing on the matter, but they were all destroyed in the burning of his house. Three of the sons of Edward, William, Amos and Edward, Jr., were members of one or the other of George Rogers Clark's expeditions. William is supposed to have been the William Goodwin of the expedition of 1778, and his brothers served later.

The family of Edward, Sr., must have removed very shortly thereafter to Jefferson county, Ky., as an Anna Goodwin, supposed to be his daughter, was married at Louisville in 1788. Edward's wife's name was given as Mary, but a deed discovered by Mrs. Speed shows the name to be Elizabeth. I think it must be that Elizabeth was the wife of Edward, Jr., as the tombstone of Edward, Sr., states that his wife's name was Mary. In 1800 Edward Goodwin and Mary his wife removed to the farm on Pleasant Run, about four miles southwest of Charlestown, Clark county, Ind., owned by his son William, and here Edward's wife died in 1801. As a deed of 1801 is signed by Edward and Elizabeth, William and Mary Goodwin, it is possible that his first wife was Elizabeth, and that he married a second wife, Mary, who survived him, but none of his descendants know of any second marriage. For a number of years before his death Edward was blind. There seems to be considerable uncertainty about the names of Edward's children. In addition to the possibility of Joseph of Augusta county being a son, the name of Willis has been given, but is not included in the list which is generally accepted, and it is strongly disputed that Anna was a child of his. In fact, the records outside of the descendants of his son William must be taken with considerable reservation. Mr. Goodwin Speed, a descendant of Edward Goodwin, and a lawyer of Seattle, Wash., has just sent a communication saying that Edward, Sr., and Mary his wife moved to Indiana in 1800, while Edward and Elizabeth gave a deed July 1, 1801, which mentioned the tract of land "Edward Goodwin now lives on." This fixes with certainty the name of the wife of Edward, Jr., as his brother William and wife join in the same deed. Children: i. William, born May, 1758, married Mrs. Mary (Wallace) Eakin; ii. Elizabeth, untraced; iii. Edward, married Elizabeth ——; iv. Amos, born 1764, married, first, Mary Johnson, second, Elizabeth ——; v. James, married —— ——; vi. Anna, married Samuel Applegate.

William Goodwin (Edward) was born, probably in Virginia, May, 1758, and died in Clark county, Ind., July or August, 1826. He served in General George Rogers Clark's expedition against the British and Indians in the Northwest in 1778. He was probably first in Captain John Montgomery's company. Afterward he was a member of Captain John Rogers' company, which appears to have been organized out of a part of Captain Montgomery's company. He was allotted 108 acres of land for services under Clark, 100 acres being in section 262 and 8 acres in section 196 of the Illionis grant, chiefly lying in what is now Clark county, Ind. The records show that William had disposed of his claim before the land had been set apart. Doubtless he had returned to Virginia, and he may have been a member of the military escort under Captain Rogers which conveyed the British General Hamilton and other distinguished prisoners to Virginia after their capture at Vincennes in 1779. He was probably married soon after his return, as his oldest son, John, was born 1784 or 1785. He returned to Kentucky from Virginia with his family and his father and mother about 1789 or 1790. He settled near Louisville in the "Pond settlement," his brothers Amos and Edward also living near or in that locality.

In 1800 or 1801 William was appointed by General William Henry Harrison, then governor of Indiana Territory, one of eight associate judges or justices of the Court of General Quarter Sessions for the Territory. The first court was held at Springville, near the site of what is now Charlestown, Ind., April 7, 1801. He held his position as judge, though the area of jurisdiction was much varied, until the 28th day of November, 1823, when his name was appended to the record for the last time, a service of twenty-three years. The following year his son, Willis Wallace, succeeded him as judge. William lived in Clark county, Ind., on a tract of 430 acres on Pleasant Run, purchased in 1800 from Lieutenant James Meriweather. This land is now owned by Mr. Columbus C. Goodwin, his grandson. Children: i. John, born 1784, married Pauline Jenkins; ii. Elizabeth, born 1785, made, first, William Councel, second, William Stacy; iii. Willis Wallace, born 1787, married, first, Katherine Holland, second, Mary Mills, third, Mrs. Eliza (——) Davis; iv. Amos, born
1789, married Amelia Dunn; v. George, born 1792, married Esther Fowler.

John Goodwin (William, Edward), born in 1784, in Virginia, was married April 25, 1816, in Clark county, Ind., by Willis W.

Ky., daughter of Ezekiel and Mary (Helm) Jenkins and granddaughter of Captain Leonard Helm, of General Clark’s expedition. By occupation he was a teacher and farmer, and in religion a Christian or Disciple. They resided in Clark county, Ind.

in 1860. For many years of his earlier life he taught school.

George Goodwin (William, Edward), born 1792, in Jefferson county, Ky., was married June 10, 1810, in Clark county, Ind., to Esther Fowler. They resided in Clark county, Ind., where George died in March, 1814, before his father and George's two children were mentioned in their grandfather's will. The name of George's son is also given as William, but he is called George in his grandfather's will. Mrs. Esther (Fowler) Goodwin married, second, William Bull, October 9, 1815. George's children left Clark county, and have not been traced. Children: i. George; ii. Mary.

Mary Goodwin (George, William, Edward) returned to Clark county on a visit to her relatives between thirty and forty years ago. She was then a married elderly lady. Her husband's name and place of residence cannot now be ascertained.

Amos Goodwin (Edward), was born in Virginia, probably in Culpepper or Augusta county, in 1765 or 1766. He served two years in the Virginia Continental Line, revolutionary war, having enlisted from Culpepper county, under Captain Thomas and Colonel Slaughton. It is evident from his age that this service must have been in the closing years of the war. He served, together with his brother Edward, in some of the later campaigns of General George Rogers Clark, probably in 1785. Probably these young men went west and joined General Clark as a result of the account which their brother William, who served earlier, had given them of the Northwest country. Both of them settled in Jefferson county, Ky., and Amos was married to Mary Johnson at Louisville, February 14, 1791. His first wife seems to have died, and he was married to Elizabeth ——, who, on September 3, 1832, applied for a pension, which was allowed. He is thought to have lived to the age of sixty-six years. He died in Jefferson county, Ky. Amos received a bounty of two hundred acres of land for his services in the revolutionary war. He is thought to have left two children. (See Appendix W, 1897 Supplement.)

Children: i. Harvey, married Sarah Clove; ii. Nancy J., married Daniel Kasay.

Harvey Goodwin (Amos, Edward), was married July 18, 1822, at Louisville, Ky., to Sarah Clove, daughter of Benjamin Clove.

Nancy J. Goodwin (Amos, Edward), was married October 29, 1823, at Louisville, Ky., to Daniel Kasay.

Edward Goodwin (Edward) was probably the youngest son of Edward, Sr. He evidently went with his brother Amos to join General Clark's expedition, for both their names appear on the roster of those soldiers who served in some of Clark's later campaigns. Besides this little is known of him. William Goodwin's descendants recall that he was one of William's two brothers left in Kentucky. There is a family of Goodwins who live near Evansville, Ind., who say they are descended from Edward Goodwin "who lived near New Albany, Ind.,” and it seems probable that this is the Edward referred to, unless indeed this family are descendants of the son of George (William, Edward), who has not been traced and that they refer to Edward, Sr., as their ancestor. Edward Goodwin, sometimes with William Goodwin, is the grantee in a number of deeds recorded in Louisville, Ky., dated March 2, 1790, May 1, 1793, and July 3, 1801. In 1801 Edward and William, Elizabeth and Mary Goodwin join in a deed, which indicates strongly that Edward, Jr.'s wife was named Elizabeth. He is sole grantor March 5, 1816, indicating his wife's death prior to that time.

James Goodwin (Edward) may have been a son of Edward, but there appears to be no recollection among living members of William's family of hearing of such a son. James Goodwin appears to have resided in Louisville, Ky., and to have left two children. Children: i. Elizabeth, married Jesse Sheridan; ii. Polly, married Ware Eakin.

Mary (Polly) Goodwin (James, Edward), was married February 4, 1810, at Louisville, Ky., to Ware Eakin.

Elizabeth Goodwin (James, Edward), was married March 21, 1812, at Louisville, Ky., to Jesse Sheridan.
Anna Goodwin (Edward) may have been a daughter of Edward. She was married to Samuel Applegate at Louisville, Ky., March 5, 1788. Samuel Applegate afterwards purchased land in Clark county, Ind.

THE GOODWINS OF DINWIDDIE CO., VIRGINIA.

The following fragment of a Goodwin family residing at an early date in Dinwiddie county has not yet been identified. It claims relationship with the Goodwyns, but the oldest living members of that branch say that they never heard of any relationship nor knew of any intermarriage of the Goodwyns with the Youngs, Hardaways, Stiths, etc., through which families the blood is preserved.

It is possible that James Goodwin, the earliest known ancestor, may have been a son of Mathew Goodwyn (Thomas, Mathew, James). It only adds one more complication to the Dinwiddie puzzle:

James Goodwin, born about 1740, resided in Dinwiddie county, Va., and was a member of the Bristol Parish Church, or at least lived in that parish. He married a Miss Chapman, according to one account, but another says his wife's name was Judith Thweet, and died in Dinwiddie county. It has been impossible to get a complete list of his children, but there were other daughters and at least two more sons than those named. Children: i. son, born ---, married ---; ii. son, born ---, married ---; iii. Martha (Patsy), born ---, married James Young as his first wife; iv. Judith, born ---, married James Young as his second wife; v. Angeline, born ---, married Hardaway Young; vi. Winnie Tucker, born about 1770, married Henry (Harry) Young; vii. Robert, born ---, married Susan ---.

Goodwin (James), born in Dinwiddie county, Va., married ---. I can get no data of this family, except that this son and his wife both died and the two children were reared by their grandmother Goodwin. Children: i. John Thweat, born ---, married Hannah Goodwin; ii. Lucy, born ---, married --- Ennis; iii. William or “Nick,” born ---, married Pink ---.

Lucy Goodwin (---, James) married Mr. Ennis. They had no child, but adopted her niece, Lucy Ann Goodwin, daughter of her brother, John Thweat Goodwin.

Goodwin (James), born in Dinwiddie county, was married and had a family. I can get no record of his name, but learn of the following children: i. Holly, born ---, married, first, Thomas Goodwin Hardaway, second, --- Ellis, third, Peter Heath, fourth, --- Williamson; ii. Hannah, born ---, married John Thweat Goodwin; iii. Sallie, born ---, married --- Abernathy (untraced).

Holly Goodwin (---, James) married, first, Thomas Goodwin Hardaway, only child of Stith and Sallie (Goodwin?) Hardaway.* She married, second, Mr. Ellis; third, Peter Heath,

*The Hardaway family seems to descend from John Hardaway, who resided in Dinwiddie Co., and had a land grant in 1755. He married Frances ---. He was a vestryman in Bristol Parish Church. The records of this family came through the youngest daughter, who married Edward Young. Doubtless Stith Hardaway was a son of one of this John Hardaway’s sons, but I do not know which. Children: i. James Markam, born January 21, 1739, untraced; ii. Jean (daughter), born March 21, 1781, untraced; iii. John, born September 14, 1733, untraced; iv. Thomas, born September 20, 1734, untraced; v. Kerenhappuch, born June 27, 1741, married Edward Young. Kerenhappuch Hardaway (John), born in Dinwid-

Martha (Patsy) Goodwin (James) married James Young as his first wife. His father was brother to Edward Young, two of whose sons married sisters of Patsy. Martha Ann, born ——, married, first, Benjamin Young, second, —— Dance (her first husband was son of Edward and Fanny (Dabney) Young; Martha Ann had no children by either marriage); iii. Dr. James, born ——, married —— Mills, a daughter of Dr. Mills, of Mississippi; had one child, which died young; iv. Robert, born ——, died unmarried in Mississippi. He was a lawyer.

Elizabeth Williamson Young (Patsy, James) married Capt. James Young, who was a planter of Richmond, Va., and an officer of the War of 1812. Young children: i. Martha, married, first, E. James Goodwin Young (Minnie Tucker, James), born March 30, 1790, in Dinwiddie county, Va., married, first, Elizabeth Ann Dean; second, Catherine Brewer, and, third, Elizabeth Clemonts Young, his "double first cousin," born August 19, 1797, a daughter of Hardaway and Angeline (Goodwin) Young. James Goodwin Young was a planter and proprietor of the Tavern at Dinwiddie Courthouse. He had 892 acres of land on the north side of Sappony Creek, beginning at the corner of the land belonging to William H. Goodwyn (Joseph, Joseph, Thomas, Mathew, James). He left Virginia by private conveyance August 20, 1836, and arrived at Dallas county, Ala., October 4, 1836. His eldest daughter had married before this time, and she now (1899) resides in Dallas county, and has contributed much of this history. Young child by second wife: i. Elizabeth Ann, born 1813, married Stith Hardaway, son of Thomas Goodwin and Hollie (Goodwin) Hardaway; Young children by third wife: ii. Hardaway, born July 25, 1819, married Minerva Jones Vaughan. They had two children, Annie Mathews, born November 20, 1850, married Archibald B. Jones. They reside in Selma, Ala. Mrs. Jones has rendered great assistance in compiling these records; and Elizabeth Peterson, born January 23, 1855, married Samuel A. Mountain and resides in Mobile, Ala.

C. He was a Texas pioneer, captain of a company of Indian fighters, lieutenant-colonel of Bass' Texas Regiment Cavalry in the Confederate army. He represented Lamar county in the Congress of the Texas Republic when he was 27 years old. He died March 31, 1885. His widow resides (1899) in Tindale, Texas. Fowler children: i. Mr. Arthur is secretary of the Railroad Commission of Texas. They reside (1899) at 1802 Pearl street, Austin, Texas.
ADDITIONAL NOTES ON THE GOODWYNS AND GOODWINS OF DINWIDDE CO., VIRGINIA.

A recent trip to Prince George and Surrey counties, Va., taken by Dr. Tyler has brought to light some documents which may solve a number of the problems connected with the Goodwyns and Goodwins of Dinwiddie county. A search of the records of Greensville, Southampton and Sussex counties should disclose enough additional information to cause the remaining uncertainties to disappear, but it is impossible to hold this pamphlet longer, a year now having elapsed since the time it was intended to issue it.

In connection with these records it should be borne in mind that Surry and Prince George are the parent counties of Dinwiddie and the other counties to the west. The data presented herewith does not affect the family of Thomas and Martha Goodwyn, supposed to be descendants of Major James through his son Matthew (who had lands in Warwick county in 1701), but shows the existence of a Thomas and Mary Goodwyn of about the same age, or perhaps a little older.

Thomas Goodwyn, of Surry county, Va., must have been born around 1665. I find in Captain William F. Goodwin's records a pedigree of the Goodwins of Cambridge, England, showing that a Thomas Goodwin, whose great grand parents were married in 1573, the only date in the pedigree, emigrated to Virginia. Whether these Thomas Goodwins were the same I have no present means of determining, but the Virginia Thomas had a son (his fourth) old enough to marry in 1720, indicating the birth of Thomas to be, as stated, around 1665. The first record is a power of attorney executed by Thomas Goodwyn, of Virginia, mariner, to Henry Harrison, gent., of Surry county, dated Aug. 8, 1717, witnessed by Edward and Margaret Goodrich. This document was recorded in Prince George county, but as the attorney was of Surry county, doubtless the Thomas was the same Thomas Goodwyn of the parish of Southwark, Surry county, whose will was proved October 20, 1731. This will is badly mutilated, but enough exists to disclose the name of the wife as Mary, and sons John, William, and Francis, daughter Penelope, and a grandson Thomas Goodwin. It would appear that the mutilation has cut out the name of at least one other son, Thomas, as a Thomas Goodwyn of the same parish deeded to John Scott for natural love, etc., gained by marrying his daughter Amy in 1720. The probable list of children is as follows: i. John, of Surry, living in 1731, probably married Sarah Hunt; ii. Francis, living 1731; iii. William, of Prince George county, living in 1760; iv. Thomas, married Amy Scott; v. Penelope, married —— Taylor.

John Goodwyn (Thomas), together with Sarah, his wife, probably a Hunt, was defendant in a suit brought by the estate of William Hunt in Surry in 1728. A John Goodwin had land grants in Surry in 1748.

William Goodwin (Thomas) resided in Martin Brandon Parish, Prince George county, in 1760, when John and William Pace deeded to him.

Thomas Goodwin (Thomas) is supposed to be a son because he resided in the same parish with Thomas, Sr. A deed shows him to have married Amy, daughter of John Scott. Dr. Tyler suggests that his son’s name may have been Thomas, but I am inclined to think that the son’s name was James Goodwin, who married Martha Thweat, daughter of John and Judith Thweat, and named his first child Amy. My reasons are these: John Thweat’s will, dated January 5, 1758, proved June 12, 1759, shows wife Judith, sons James and William, grandsons James and Peterson (sons of William), and John and Thomas (sons of James), and daughters Elizabeth, Mary, Judith and Martha Goodwin, and granddaughter Amy Goodwin.

The Goodwins of Dinwiddie county say that James Goodwin, their earliest known ancestor, married Judith Thweat, and that this couple had other daughters than the ones given on p. 135-6. I think that it was James Goodwin, who married Martha Thweat, daughter of Judith, and that their first child was Amy, whose name is omitted from the list given me. Other daughters of James Goodwin and his Thweat wife were Martha and Judith. If this supposition is correct, then James Goodwin was born some time before 1740, perhaps not far from 1730, not inconsistent with the birth of his sixth or seventh child in 1770.

If this supposition is correct, it carries the Goodwins of Dinwiddie county beyond a time when they could have been descendants of Major James Goodwin. The names of this family of Surry county indicate strongly, with their John, William,
Francis and Amy, that one of these sons was the father of the three Goodwyns, William (father of Francis and Amy), —— (father of John), and Robert, who went to the Carolinas about 1760 from Dinwiddie county, and a search of the other records indicated should disclose which son was the father of these Goodwins, and thus clear up practically all of the questions surrounding this family in Dinwiddie. It is true that there were others to go out of this county, but so many sons have been found in the Goodwyns and Goodwins of those generations that the principal trouble seems to be removed, and only the determining of the proper relationship remains to be done.

THE GOODWINES, GOODWINS AND GOODINS OF KENTUCKY.

A belated lot of family history has been adduced through the kindness of Mrs. Austin P. Speed, of Louisville, Ky.; and her brother-in-law, R. Canby Speed, of Bardstown, Ky. A clipping from a newspaper sent me by Mrs. Speed contained an account of an interview with an old colored woman, Aunt Patsy Goodin, living near Bardstown, and is said to be 120 years old. She was set free in 1830, then an old woman, by her master, Thomas Goodin, Sen. Mr. Speed says she has her second or third sight, is cutting her third set of teeth, and that her hair, white for fifty years, is turning dark, and that, as she expresses it, “she just seems to be dryin’ up.” She insists that the name has always been Goodin, and not Goodwin, but it is written both ways in the county records.

On pages 12 and 13 of the present publication, Appendix D, mention is made of John Goodwin, who came from Wheeling, W. Va., to Bardstown, Nelson county, Ky., and that the Goodwins living around Bardstown were supposed to descend from some of this man’s sons, but that some now appear to descend from an Isaac and a Samuel Goodwin, a generation younger. Still later data indicates that John Goodwin and at least two others of his generation, probably his brothers, settled in Nelson county. This statement is based on these facts: John Goodwin had a son James born in 1780, who was twice married, and whose history is fully known. This James had no sister Mary. The records of Nelson county show that another James Goodwin, older than John’s son, married Mary Goodwin June 15, 1793. There is thus of necessity three families—one of James, the younger; one of James, the elder, and one of Mary, wife of the latter James.

The records of the family of John and —— (Heddie) Goodwin, from Virginia to Nelson county, show these children:

William Goodwin, went to Lebanon, Ind., direct from W. Va., untraced. Consult pages 13 and 145.

Abner Goodwin, went to Greencastle, Ind., direct from W. Va.
John Goodwin, untraced. He may be the John of the Nelson county records.

Thomas Goodwin, untraced. He may be the Thomas of the Nelson county records.

Seth Goodwin is supposed to be the Seth of Appendix E., but may be the Nelson county man.
Heddie Goodwin, untraced.
James Goodwin, born in 1780, married Elizabeth Snyder and Mrs. Sarah (Shoemaker) Logan.

The records of Nelson county show these marriages:
Isaac Goodwin and Sarah Edelin were married March 2, 1790, by Joe Dodge.
Abraham Goodwin and Barbara Sturgeon were married June 12, 1792, by William Taylor.
Samuel Goodwin and Margaret Jared were married March 28, 1793, by J. Carman.
James Goodwin and Mary Goodwin were married June 15, 1793, by William Taylor.
Thomas Goodwin and Nancy McBride were married January 16, 1794.
Seth Goodwin and Rebecca Stillwell were married February 4, 1796, by J. Carman.
John Goodwin and Deborah Drake were married , 1798, by R. Smith.
William Goodwin and Anna Deafendall were married May 22, 1802, by R. Smith.

The records of Hardin county show these marriages:
Abraham Goodin and Betsy Pottenger were married February 2, 1804.
Polly Goodin and Christopher Bush were married April 1, 1815.
James Goodin and Mary Pairpoint were married December 11, 1815.

Mehetable Goodin and Isaac Chambers were married October 2, 1816.

Garrard Goodin and Lettice Swants were married July 26, 1819.

Taking up the records of Nelson county it appears that—

Isaac Goodwin, who married Sarah Edelin March 2, 1790, was the Isaac Goodin, of Hardin county, before 1800, and had children i. John, ii. Samuel; iii. James, who appears from the Hardin county records to have married Mary Pairpoint December 11, 1815; iv. Thomas, born 1802, married Polly Edelin, and the descendants of the latter son are given on page 48.

Abraham Goodwin, of Nelson county, who married Barbara Sturgeon June 12, 1792, was probably the Abraham Goodin, of Hardin county, who married Betsy Pottinger there February 2, 1804, and it is probable that Polly, Mehetable and Garrard were children of this man by his first marriage.

Samuel Goodwin, who married Margaret Jared March 28, 1793, had at least two children, i. Albert, married, first, Fanny Vernon, second, Eliza Crain or Crane; ii. Thomas, married, first, Susan Thomas, second, Elizabeth Leymunds.

Albert Goodin (Samuel) was probably the father of A. V. Goodin by his first wife, Fanny Vernon. I take the full name to be Albert Vernon Goodin. The records given below show that A. V. Goodin and Ella P. Harned were married in Nelson county May 1, 1866, by S. Collier. Another child was Sue Goodin, who married her cousin, William H. Goodin, in La Rue county December 6, 1870.

Thomas Goodin (Samuel) married, first, Susan Thomas, second, Elizabeth Leymunds. The first marriage was July 22, 1822, in Hardin county, and the second was March 20, 1870, in La Rue county. Children: i. William H., married his cousin, Sue Goodin; ii. Isaac, married Sallie Edelin in La Rue county February 22, 1864, and his descendants are given on page 49.

As to the other records of Nelson county given above I can only say that the fact that a Seth Goodwin appears in Nelson county goes to cast additional uncertainty on the Seth Goodwin of Appendix E. It is true that this Seth of Hardin county may not have been the son of John Goodwin, but the son of one of John's brothers.

To sum up, these records indicate that an elder brother of John, of Virginia and Kentucky, was the father of Isaac, Abraham (Hardin county), James (who married Mary Goodwin), Samuel (Hardin county), and perhaps Seth (who married Rebecca Stillwell); that John Goodwin was the father of William* (Lebanon, Ind.), Abner (Greencastle, Ind.), John, Thomas (who married Nancy McBride), Seth (Fayette county, Pa.), Heddie and James (West Lebanon, Ind.), and that a younger brother was the father of Mary (who married James Goodwin) and of William (who married Anna Deafenbald in 1802). The West Lebanon branch took the name of Goodwine, the Hardin county branch the name Goodin, and practically all of the other descendants retain the name Goodwin.

The records of Nelson county disclose marriages of younger generations as follows:

Elias Goodwin and Ruthy Riley were married November 28, 1811, by M. Pierson.
Seth Goodwin and Nancy Holly were married January 9, 1812, by M. Pierson.
Abner Goodwin and Charlotte Ginn were married March 10, 1812, M. Pierson.
Elias Goodwine and Margaret Cook were married March 16, 1816, by W. Stullard.
Franklin Goodwin and Sallie Ann Harned were married February 19, 1857, by Wm. M. Grubbs.
A. V. Goodwin and Ella P. Harned were married May 1, 1866, by S. Collier.

It is possible that the Seth Goodwin mentioned in 1812 may be the same Seth who was first married in 1796, and the Elias

* A note to page 80, 1897 Supplement, states that a John Goodwin and brother came to Warren county, Ind., about 1840, and settled near their "cousin," James Goodwine, and about 1850 removed to Missouri. Mr. Abner Goodwine, of Rossville, Ills., only surviving child of James Goodwine, writes that Washington, who was studying medicine, Robert, Rebecca, Hannah and Seth Goodwin came about 1840 from James-town, Boone county, Ind., to West Lebanon, and went to Missouri about 1850. This is evidently a fuller account than the 1897 note. Mr. Goodwine says that he understands these were descendants of William Goodwin, of Lebanon, his father's brother.
Goodwin and Goodwine records may be of two marriages of the same man. A careful search of the records for Shelby, Nelson, Hardin and La Rue counties should result in a clear alignment of these families.

THE GOODWINS OF HARRISON COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA.

George Goodwin (John) mentioned on page 83 of the 1897 supplement was George T. Goodwin, born 1811. His first wife was a daughter of John Bartlett. Their eldest son was Samuel Stephenson Goodwin, whose second wife was Malinda Anne Cole, not Coll.

At the foot of page 62 it is stated that it has been impossible to prove or to disprove the relationship of Elijah, and on page 90 the descendants of his son George are given. By the merest accident I find that this Elijah is the Elijah Goodwin (John Pantry, Hezekiah, Nathaniel, William, Ozias) of the Goodwins of Hartford, Conn., and that he was baptized in Hartford February 6, 1763, and in January, 1793, settled in Luzerne county, and that he had eight children by his first wife and two by his second wife. In the Hartford Goodwin book all of his children

GOODWYNS OF DINWIDDIE COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

The following extracts from the records of Surry and Prince George throw light upon the origin of this family. The name is nearly always spelled Goodwyn, and the family, I think, had no connection with the family of Goodwin in York. It must be remembered that Surry and Prince George counties were the parent counties of Sussex, Dinwiddie and several others of the southern counties. From these counties the Goodwyns spread throughout the South. The Sussex, Greensville and other Southside county records may contain interesting additional information.
